In this book out-of-the-way mission fields that are little studied are brought under review. Greenland, Fuegia, Hawaii, Mongolia, Ceylon, and Arabia are the picturesque background against which stand out in clear relief the lives of Hans Egede, Allen Gardiner, Titus Coan, James Gilmour, Eliza Agnew and Keith-Falconer.

This collection of biographies brings before the reader the story of heroic deeds and fruitful service.—Baptist Union.

Pastor and Modern Missions; a plea for Leadership in the World Evangelization. By John R. Mott, M.A., F.R.G.S. Missionary Bibliography, index. 12mo, 249 pp., cloth, gilt top, $1.00.

The volume is a reprint in enlarged form of a course of lectures delivered at Ohio Wesleyan University, Yale Divinity School, McCormick and Princeton Theological Seminaries. It deals with world conditions at the beginning of the twentieth century and with the pastor as he stands between his church and the world's need. The various chapters discuss in a most suggestive way the pastor as an educational, a financial, a recruiting, and a spiritual force in the world's evangelization. As a book of missionary methods and as an inspiration to prospective or actual pastors it is of the utmost value.

Protestant Missions in South America. By Rev. Harlan P. Beach, Canon F. P. L. Josa, Professor J. Taylor Hamilton, Rev. H. C. Tucker, Rev C. W. Drees, D.D.; Rev. I. H. LaFetra, Rev. Thomas B. Wood, LL.D., and Mrs. T. S. Pond. Bibliography, missionary map, analytical index, general and missionary statistics. 12mo, 236 pp.; paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This text-book contains the most complete account of Protestant missions in South America that has yet appeared. Every effort was made to obtain as trustworthy information as possible. The several writers were secured because of their intimate knowledge of the lands and work which they have described.

Religions of Mission Fields as Viewed by Missionaries. By ten prominent missionaries. Bibliographies and index. 12mo, paper, 35 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

This volume treats of nine principal religions of the great mission fields. The chapters are written by missionaries of experience who have given special study to the religions which they here discuss. It is particularly valuable for intending missionaries, since the viewpoint of the writers is a practical rather than a theoretical one. The religions included in the volume and the writers upon each are as follows: African religion, E. H. Richards, D.D.; Shintoism, J. H. DeForest, D.D.; Taoism, H. C. DuBose, D.D.; Confucianism, D. Z. Sheffield, D.D.; Buddhism of the Southern type, J. N. Cushing, D.D., of the Northern type, Rev. A. D. Gring; Hinduism, Rev. C. A. R. Janvier; Mohammedanism, S. M. Zwemer, D.D.; Judaism, Rev. L. Meyer; Catholicism, G. B. Winton, D.D.

Social Evils in the Non-Christian World. By Rev. James S. Dennis, D.D. Numerous illustrations; analytical index. 12mo, 172 pp.; paper 35 cents.

Reprinted from Volume I of Dr. Dennis's great work, "Christian Missions and Social Progress." An exceedingly strong argument for Christian Missions derived from the awful social conditions prevalent in non-Christian countries. It is doubtful whether there is to be found elsewhere so full and compact an exposition of social conditions in mission lands.

The Life Story of Henry Clay Trumbull

Missionary, Army Chaplain, Editor, and Author. By PHILIP E. HOWARD.

Dr. Trumbull's biography is the story of a singularly strong and noble character in the making. A life so eventful even in boyhood, a personality so masterful and yet so childlike in its simple faith, and so rich in experience of men and events, is found perhaps once in a generation. Dr. Trumbull's biographer, his son-in-law, was his partner for twelve years in The Sunday School Times and is now publisher of that paper. He tells many characteristic incidents in Henry Clay Trumbull's fascinating career, and makes liberal use of Dr. Trumbull's letters as revealing the man as he was. To find the secret of such a character is to gain new ideals and a compelling desire for the kind of service that counts. Illustrated with photogravure portraits. Price, $1.75, net; postage, 23 cents additional.

Off the Rocks

Life stories of the deep-sea fisher-folk of Labrador. By WILFRED T. GRENFELL.

The eyes of a great portion of the reading public have of late been directed toward the rocky coast of Labrador; and perhaps no figure looms so large along the rugged line of that coast as that of

Dr. Grenfell—the Christian physician and earnest friend of every North Atlantic fisherman who needs help. This Oxford graduate has faced heroic conditions with a courage, moral and physical, such as few men are called upon to show. In the series of short stories contained in "Off the Rocks" vivid pen-pictures are given of the land and the people. They thrill with adventure, yet are told so simply that the man who wrote them, and who is the very center of their action, almost succeeds in hiding himself from view. 203 pages; 10 illustrations. $1.00, net.

Our Misunderstood Bible

By H. CLAY TRUMBULL. In Press.

This volume has gathered into compact form many of the comments resulting from Dr. Trumbull's critical study of well-known Scripture passages. Some of these comments are now published for the first time. Outdoors, Indoors, and Up the Chimney

By CHARLES McILVAINE. With illustrations by the author.

The younger readers of The Sunday School Times have been fascinated with these sketches. They deal with common but frequently unobserved features of nature—animal life, vegetable life, and mineral formations. The stories possess the rare quality of both interesting and informing young folks, and at the same time of holding the attention of parents who will want to read aloud to their children. 75 cents, net.

What Shall a Young Girl Read?

By MARGARET E. SANGSTER.

The selection of reading matter for the young people is so frequently a trying parents' problem, that this little work has found a cordial reception. Mrs. Sangster has long been the favorite counselor in the Christian home, and her words are everywhere eagerly read. In suggesting what not to read, the author outlines helpful guiding principles; as to what may be read with profit and pleasure, she suggests so much that is admirable that a girl will scarcely need or want anything else. 50 cents, net.

White Christopher

By ANNIE TRUMBULL SLOSSON, author of "Fishin' Jimmy," "Story-Tell Lib," etc. Illustrations by Alice Barber Stephens. Heavy deckle-edge paper. A choice gift book.

It took a white-haired, feeble-minded little boy in a New England village to reveal the present meaning of the cross to the Christians and scoffers about him. The story of how he did it has been called "superstitious and trashy," and again it has marked a spiritual awakening in the lives of those who called themselves Christians. 75 cents, net.

A Strange Flaw

By Henry S. Wilcox

Author of "Foibles of the Bench," "Trials of a Stump Speaker," etc., etc.

A true American Novel, written by an American about an American and American Institutions, beginning with an Inaugural Ball and ending in a party Caucus at the White House. It introduces the Supreme Court of the United States, the State Legislature, and a local newspaper, together with many original and strong characters. It also introduces the crafty plunderer and promoter, and such others who employ the agency of the government to defeat right and justice. The whole fabric is woven together in a clever manner with an unusually strong love story running through it. The characters are nearly all "red blooded" Americans. The whole story turning upon what a certain word really was, the writing being so imperfect that it was impossible to determine.

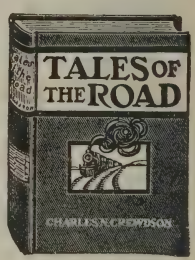
Tales of the Road

BY CHARLES N. CREWDSON

The True American Book combining bright, clever, snappy stories with a background of active life and a close study of human nature.



It isn't alone its amusing yarns, its vigorous style, its wholesome atmosphere that make it so vital to you. It is the fact that beneath its lighter vein are the real principles and pointers of practical salesmanship--the experience, the methods, the strategy of an actual business getter told in a stirring narative style.

The tales run the whole gamut of a salesman's difficulties: how cold indifference was melted into feverish interest, how enmity was turned into friendship, interest into desire, curiosity into sales, and sales into permanent custom.

There is not only a laugh but a pointer in every page; yet it is good literature and splendid reading.

J. J. Gould has illustrated the work with rare skill.

The Man at the Window

By Opie Read

A THRILLING DETECTIVE STORY

Opie Read stands preeminent as the master of all American story tellers. He has the faculty of being able to weave a web of mystery and love, with such skill that every incident is exciting, and the story is one of intense thrilling action. This is a dramatic, almost tragic story of the quest for a murderer, by one who undertakes it without hope of any reward. He claims no paticular qualifications for the role he assumes except an inherent belief that he will find the offender The clews he follows are clever and interesting, only to meet with the usual set back, until finally when least expecting it the problem is solved and the offender brought to justice in a unique and dramatic way. Taken in all the story grips your interest like a vice and holds the reader spell-bound to the end.

Cloth, 12 Mo. Price $1.50

An American in New York

By Opie Read

From the Baltimore Daily News:

"An American in New York." by Opie Read is similar in style to his other stories, but quite different in plot and scene, its events taking place in New York instead of some country town. In fact, it might be termed a commentary on New York city, being full of philosophical observations on high life in this country as it is today, and typical of New York. This is the idea of the book, the characters serve as a background. Chief among these is an interesting Kentucky Colonel, such as only Opie Read can manufacture from material seen in real life. These gentlemen of the old school are seldom met with now, save in a few Southern communities, where codes and creeds have been handed down for generations and are observed with the respect due religion. Among these courtesy is a law, and hospitality sacred. The plot of the story and the love-making of the Colonel are decidedly original. The book contains the author's usual fund of humor and pathos, spiced in this case with considerable satire. The prose of its pages is tinged with a truly poetic imagination. Mr. Read is, in feeling, a poet, an artist in expression, and a devotee to old-fashioned romance, which in this practical age is most refreshing.

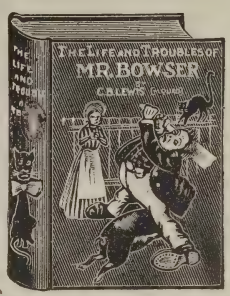
The Life and Troubles of MR. BOWSER

THE NEW BOOK BY THE POPULAR HUMORIST

C. B. Lewis, (M. Quad.)

Author of "The Lime-Kiln Club," etc., with page illustrations by Grossett



In "The Life and Troubles of Mr. Bowser" we find him at his best; that is, he succeeds in creating a laughable and readable adventure at least one day or evening out of the seven, and would do a little better if Mrs. Bowser was not always on hand to sit down on him at just the right moment to dampen his enthusiasm. Some husbands are crushed to stay crushed, but Mr. Bowser bobs up serenely next time to buy a new milch cow who doesn't "milch," a dozen chickens who do nothing but "lay" around, a clock which "goes" only when pitched out of the back window, and to take up scientific subjects; experiment with electricity; delve into the occult and keep Mrs. Bowser, the family cat and the cook on the move. As. Mrs. Pattington would say: "He is full of ingredients, and you are bound to eat crust and all."

WHAT THIS BOOK REALLY IS:

The first few pages contain sketches of 31 animals, birds, etc., three positions of each, one for every day of the month. These are numbered from 1 to 31. They may use any of the blank spaces and should sign their names and fill in the date.

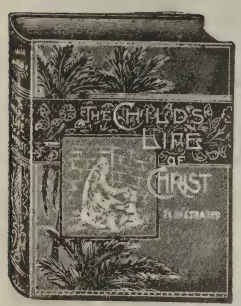
The Child's Life of Christ

Introduction by Rev. J. L. Hurlbut, D. D.

FROM THE BIRTH OF CHRIST TO THE ASCENSION.



There is a wonderful facination for children in Bible stories. The parent who tries the experiment will find that David is more interesting than Jack the Giant Killer; that Daniel and his brave companions are more facinating than King Arthur; that the shipwreck of Paul is better than Sinbad the Sailor, and of all Bible stories there is none that hold the attention so deeply as those which cluster around the Life of Christ.

True stories of Palestine; The Annunciation; Nazareth; The Shepherds; Herod; The Wise Men From the East; The Massacre of the Innocents, and the Circumcision; The Presentation; His Childhood; Daily Life; The Passover; The Passover in Jerusalem; Christ's First Passover, and hundreds of other interesting Bible stories which never grow old, are always fresh, and are read with eager delight by old and young.

This beautiful volume is written in language so simple and attractive that it charms every reader. Prepared expressly for the instruction of young people in our Sunday Schools and Societies of Christian Workers.

Illustrated Skin Diseases. (By Color Photography.) An Atlas and Text-book, with special reference to Modern Diagnosis and the most approved methods of Treatment. By William S. Gottheil, M.D., Professor of Skin and Venereal Diseases, New York School of Clinical Medicine. It has been difficult to represent in words or picture in drawings the manifold impressions and delicate variations of color and shape that are so readily appreciated through the optic nerve and detected in the living subject. From the author's extensive collection, taken in hospital, dispensary, and private practice. This series of Colored Plates are by the new photographic process, producing life-like representations by means of color negatives from living subjects, surpassing in life-like effects any and all attempts at chromo-lithography.

The New York Medical Record says:—"The stronghold of the work is its color photography, depicting as it does from life what heretofore it has been considered impossible to illustrate. The etiology, pathology and diagnosis are given in as few words as practical, and great space is devoted to modern therapeutics."

THE UNIT BOOKS

PUBLISHED BY

THE UNIT BOOK PUBLISHING COMPANY

333 FOURTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

THE UNIT BOOKS have now become so widely and so favorably known to the discriminating reading public for whom they were conceived that the publishers feel it no longer necessary to discuss in detail the story of their origin, their reason for existence, or their prospective future development. For those, however, who may be interested to know something about the series and why it was given so unusual a title we submit the following brief statement.

The Unit Books were originated by Mr. Howard Wilford Bell, who began their publication in the fall of 1903 and who was subsequently succeeded by the Unit Book Publishing Company. The Unit Books were intended primarily as a systematic and encyclopedic issue of the world's acknowledged classics—the old books whose vitality time has touched so lightly that they may be considered immortal. Our editions are unabridged and unexpurgated, and may be depended upon for the accuracy of the reprint, the practical value of the annotation, the relative perfection of the proof-reading.

All editorial matter is intended to convey exact encyclopedic information rather than the personal opinions of the editors; and is, moreover, as readable as it is accurate. To each text the editor adds:

(1) A sketch of the author's life.

(2) The bibliographical story of the book.

(3) Terse but comprehensive notes on the text.

(4) A list of authorities on the subject treated.

(5) An exhaustive index,—a total of from 20 to 60 pages of original editorial comment.

The Unit issues are printed in a broad-faced type, clear and legible, and not from worn-out plates. The paper is a creamy buff, opaque and light in the hand. It is technically known as "featherweight," and is peculiarly soft and mellow. The margins are wide, and the effect is simple and dignified. The books are notable for their convenient size—4½ x 7 inches; they are small enough to slip into the pocket and large enough to stand upon a shelf with dignity.

Our books are sold at prices based on the length of the book and therefore on the actual cost of production. However long the original text, we publish it in its entirety on a uniform quality of paper and in the same size of type. The length and binding of the book determine its price.

We begin with our unit of 25 pages.

The price of each set of 25 pages is two cents.

The price of 100 pages is 8 cents, and each additional 25 pages adds two cents to the price.

We offer our books in three bindings—

(1) Stiff paper of a durable quality.
(2) Cloth with gold title and design.
(3) Full leather ornamented with gold.

The paper and cloth-bound copies have cut edges and the full leather-bound copies a gilt top. The paper wrapper is stout and will not tear readily. The cloth cover is a durable linen crash stamped in gold. The full leather binding is a new pattern ornamented with gold. All the bindings are flexible so that the books open flat in the hand like an Oxford Bible. A dark green is the uniform color of the three bindings.

A paper wrapper is given with the printed pages.

The cloth cover costs 30 cents additional.

The full leather binding costs 50 cents additional.

The price of the single volume is regulated by the number of units it contains and by the binding you choose.

It is this principle of proportionate prices which the general title of the series is intended to emphasize. This idea, however, is not the gist or substance of the enterprise, but it is used as an advertising means to an end—that end being the circulation of books hitherto not always easily accessible.

The publishers propose to devote their chief efforts to books of reference, manuals and other valuable compilations, while reprints of distinctively American literature will appear from time to time. The series already includes three compilations: National Documents, Letters and Addresses of Abraham Lincoln, and Letters and Addresses of Thomas Jefferson; Letters and Addresses of George Washington is in preparation, and this branch of the series is to be continued until the principal letters and addresses of all the most prominent and popular American statesmen have been included.

The Unit Books have the distinction of being the cheapest series of good books ever published in America. They may be had separately or in any combination you prefer.

ORDERS ON THE TREASURER. This book is intended for secretaries or other officers who are required by the rules of any church, Sunday school, or society to present to the treasurer a written order for the payment of money. The order itself, having been filled, is presented to the treasurer, who, after paying, keeps it as his voucher for the correctness of his accounts. The stub, or voucher, is retained in the book by the secretary as his record of the transaction. The "Order on the Treasurer" should be carefully filled with name, name of society, etc., amount and purpose for which used, and the proper names should be signed below. The "voucher" should show the balance on hand after the preceding payment, all the items included in the order, and the balance remaining after payment. All amounts received should be properly added on the "voucher." A careful record will make the work of the secretary and treasurer much easier and much more accurate. Fifty to the book, post-paid 35

COURSES OF STUDY

OF

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL CONFERENCE PREACHERS IN THE CHURCH OF THE UNITED BRETHREN IN CHRIST.

Adopted by the General Conference, 1901.

The prices of the books named herein are as low as is reasonably possible. It has seemed right to make a difference in the cost of most of the books, between those paid for with the order and those charged on account. This rule will be continued. If the entry is made upon the books, the charge price must be paid; if the cash accompanies the order, the cash price only will be expected. In all cases, if the books are to be sent by mail or by prepaid express, the postage must be added. Otherwise the books will be sent by express, carriage not prepaid.

Address,

United Brethren Publishing House,
DAYTON, OHIO.

NOTE: Postage must be added when books are to be sent by mail or prepaid by express.

EXPLANATION: The books for each year are divided into two classes. All must be read, but only those marked "To be examined upon" will be used in the formal examination.

Special.

OUR WEEKLY BIBLE-LESSON LEAVES. These are leaves intended for the use of transient scholars. They are issued at the same price as our Intermediate Quarterly, 2 cents per set, which gives you a lesson leaf for each Sunday in the quarter. The advantage in this is that, instead of giving out a complete Quarterly to a transient scholar, you give only the leaf used in the lesson of that Sabbath which he is in attendance. Thus a scholar on the first Sabbath of a quarter will be supplied with a copy of the lesson as well as one at the last Sabbath of a quarter. They will be sold in multiples of five only. Thus: 5 copies, 10 copies, 15 copies, 20 copies, etc. Five copies will cost you 10 cents; 10 copies, 20 cents, etc. These 5 or 10 will supply any 5 or 10 transient scholars any Sunday in the quarter. No school should fail to embrace in their order 10 or 20 copies of these Weekly Bible Lesson Leaves in their regular order for emergency scholars. These leaves can be ordered at any time during the quarter, the same as our regular Quarterlies, Remember, we can sell only in multiples of five. Do not order 3, 7, 13, etc., but 5, 10, 15, 20, etc. Orders only can be filled in the way named.

Primary Helps.

OUR BIBLE LESSON PICTURES ON THE INTERNATIONAL LESSONS. For the home and primary classes of the Sunday school. A Quarterly Leaf Cluster of large colored pictures, illustrating each Sunday-school lesson. Each cluster contains twelve sheets, 26x36 inches in size, the whole mounted on a rod and suspended by a cord, and suitable for hanging in the home or schoolroom. Each sheet contains the title and golden text of one Sunday-school lesson, with a large colored picture illustrating the incident or truth of that lesson. With each set is supplied The Superintendent, a valuable quarterly exposition of the lessons. Sent, postpaid, per quarter, 75 cents.

LITTLE PICTURES FOR OUR BIBLE LESSONS. Lithograph picture cards 2¾x4. Uniform with Our Bible Lesson Pictures. Under the pictures are printed the title of the lesson and the golden text, and on the reverse side questions and answers on the lessons. These pictures are printed in beautiful colors, attractive to the eye, and illustrating the central thought of the lesson. They are suitable for general distribution in the Sunday school, and especially adapted to primary and intermediate classes. The cards may be given out one Sunday in advance, so that the scholars may study the lesson at home. Set of thirteen cards (one for each Sunday in the quarter), 2½ cents. Set of fifty-two cards, per year, 10 cents.

REMEMBER the price of OUR INTERMEDIATE QUARTERLY is Two cents each, per quarter, or Eight cents per year.

SPECIAL NOTICE. Our Picture Charts are $3.00 per year, 75 cents per quarter. Little Picture Cards, 10 cents per year, 2½ cents per quarter. Patrons will remit according to these prices. If you are not using the Wall Charts, try them. They are the best helps in the market to illustrate the lessons.

GRAPHICAL HANDBOOK

FOR

REINFORCED CONCRETE DESIGN

BY

JOHN HAWKESWORTH, C. E.

A series of plates, showing graphically, by means of plotted curves, the required design for slabs, beams, and columns, under various conditions of external loading, together with practical examples showing the method of using each plate. The design for any of the more commonly occurring forms of reinforced concrete construction may be ascertained directly from these plates, without performing any of the computations ordinarily required. While practically nothing more than an inspection of the plates is needed to select a design for given conditions, nothing is sacrificed in the way of flexibility by the graphical method, and on the contrary, an exceptionally wide range of choice is afforded as to the relative proportions of steel and concrete to be used.

The unit stresses proscribed by the Building Code of New York City have been adopted throughout, as a standard, and it is believed that the methods here used are those sanctioned by the best practice at the present time.

This book is expected to appeal chiefly to those architects and engineers whose work in reinforced concrete design is intermittent in its nature, and does not warrant the steady employment of a "concrete engineer." In such offices, the use of a graphical handbook should render it unnecessary to call in expert assistance to solve the majority of the problems ordinarily encountered.

TUNNEL SHIELDS

AND

The Use of Compressed Air

IN

SUBAQUEOUS WORKS,

BY

WM. C. COPPERTHWAITE, M. I. C. E.

EXTRACTS FROM PREFACE.

Although the employment of a shield, with or without the aid of compressed air, in tunneling operations is of English Origin, and the length of tunnels so constructed in this country is many times greater than the total amount of similar work elsewhere, the subject is nowhere dealt with in Engineering text books written in English, except in Simms' Practical Tunneling and Prelini and Hills' Tunneling, which, however, touch only slightly on it as a part of the general history of tunneling.

The author hopes, therefore, that a history of recent developments in shield-work, may be found of some use to his professional brethren, if only by collecting in one volume, a mass of information hitherto scattered through many publications, and consequently difficult and troublesome of access.

Of the tunnels constructed abroad, in France and in the United States, his information is for the most part obtained from original sources, or the writings of those who were themselves actors in the operations they describe.

Atherton, Gertrude.

THE ARISTOCRATS.

THE CALIFORNIANS.

Bangs, John Kendrick.

GHOSTS I HAVE MET. Illustrated.

Barrie, J. M.

SENTIMENTAL TOMMY.

Bell, Lilian.

ABROAD WITH THE JIMMIES.

A deliciously fresh, graphic book. The writer is so original and unspoiled that her point of view has value.

AT HOME WITH THE JARDINES.

Bits of gay humor, sunny, whimsical philosophy, and keen indubitable insight into the less evident aspects and workings of pure human nature, with a slender thread of a cleverly extraneous love-story.

THE LOVE AFFAIRS OF AN OLD MAID.

Bonner, Geraldine.

THE PIONEER. Illustrated.

"The Pioneer" is a stirring tale of California and Nevada in the bonanza silver days. It is a tale of kings that become outcasts, and outcasts that become kings—a tale of seething activities, startling contrasts, and almost unbelievable changes of fortune.

Castle, Agnes and Egerton.

THE STAR DREAMER.

Catherwood, Mary Hartwell.

LAZARRE. Illustrated.

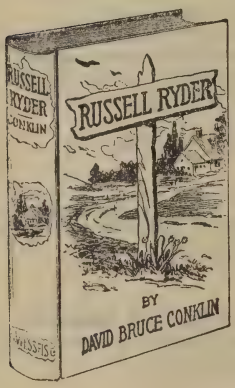
A powerfully romantic story of the Lost Dauphin, told with a skill that bespeaks for it a permanent popularity. Lazarre is not less a person than the Dauphin, Louis XVII, of France, and a right royal hero he makes.

Chittenden, L. E.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S SPEECHES.

Clouston, J. S.

THE DUKE.



Conklin, D. B.

RUSSELL RYDER. Illustrated.

A New Humorist.—"Russell Ryder" differs from almost any other book that has been written in this country or any other. * * * Russell Ryder comes fully as near the realities of his own human nature at his own time of life as Tom Sawyer does to the human nature of his own period.

Corelli, Marie.

BARABBAS.

THE SOUL OF LILITH.

THE SORROWS OF SATAN.

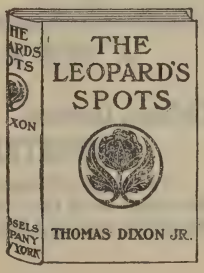
Dickson, Harris.

THE BLACK WOLF'S BREED. Illustrated.

A vigorous tale of France in the Old World and the New, happening in the reign of Louis XIV.

Dixon, Thomas, Jr.

THE LEOPARD'S SPOTS. A Story of the White Man's Burden, 1865-1900. Illustrated.



A tale of the South about the dramatic events of Destruction, Reconstruction and Upbuilding. The materials are used with historical accuracy in the development of a story full of struggle.

Ford, J. L.

THE LITERARY SHOP.

Goss, C. F.

THE REDEMPTION OF DAVID CORSON.

A mid-century American novel of intense power and interest.

"This is a book that is worth while—no one can read it and honestly ask 'what's the use.' "—The Interior.

Grand, Sarah.

BABS THE IMPOSSIBLE. Illustrated.

Green, A. K.

AGATHA WEBB.

"Agatha Webb" is the most absorbing story that has appeared during the past two years. It is deemed by those acquainted with Anna Katharine Green's works to be the most notable achievement of her pen.

Harland, Henry.

THE LADY PARAMOUNT.

This is a book full of sunshine and sparkle, full of the breath of out-door life and the hidden beauties of nature.

MY FRIEND PROSPERO.

A gay, buoyant and delightfully clever story. Mr. Harland has told his dainty story with all the sunshining brightness of spirit that brought him his tremendous success in "The Cardinal's Snuff-Box."

Hill, Headon.

THE DUKE DECIDES. Illustrated.

For a good touch and go, palpitating story, this is worthy of comparison with some of Conan Doyle's.

Holdsworth, Annie E.

A NEW PAOLA AND FRANCESCA.

Holmes, Gordon.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

The author keeps the reader in suspense as to the motive and the perpetrator of the crime until the last chapter is half way finished. So skilful is the drawing that the denouncement is no less plausible than astonishing.

Horton, George.

THE MONKS' TREASURE. Illustrated.

A good plot, and a good beginning; a narrative that darts at once into the middle of things; unhackneyed incidents and an uncertain outcome—these are the qualities that keep the reader ever on the qui vive.

Jacobs, W. W.

A MASTER OF CRAFT.

Kelly, Florence F.

HOOPS OF STEEL. Colored illustrations.

A story which paints faithfully the life of the plains, and gives us three big, manly fellows, fine types of the cowboy at his best.

King, Captain Charles.

BETWEEN THE LINES. Illustrated.

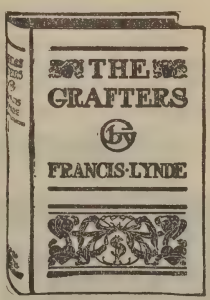
Ludlow, Jas. M.

THE CAPTAIN OF THE JANIZARIES.

Lynde, F.

THE GRAFTERS. Illustrated.

One of the best examples of a new and distinctly American class of fiction—the kind which finds romance and even sensational excitement in business, politics, finance and law.



Marchmont, Arthur W.

FOR LOVE OR CROWN. Illustrated.

Marshall, Edward.

LIZETTE. Illustrated.

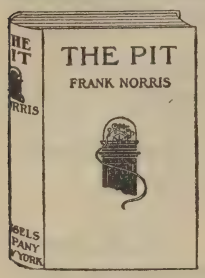
Mitchell, S. Weir.

THE YOUTH OF WASHINGTON.

Norris, Frank.

THE OCTOPUS.

The story of this remarkable novel is founded upon an actual piece of History almost unknown in the East—what is known as the "Mussel Slough Affair"—when the wheat-growers of the San Joaquin Valley came into actual conflict with the railroad ("The Octopus"), which they believed was trying to defraud them of their land.



THE PIT.

"The Pit" is undoubtedly Mr. Noris's greatest novel, it pictures in a masterly way the development of a woman's love and its entanglement with a great wheat speculation.

Oxenham, John.

FLOWERS OF THE DUST.

Paternoster, G. Sidney.

THE MOTOR PIRATE.

Its originality, exciting adventures, into which is woven a charming love theme, and its undercurrent of fun furnishes a dashing detective story which a motor-mad world will thoroughly enjoy reading.

Rives, H. E.

THE CASTAWAY. Illustrations and cover design by Howard Chandler Christy.

"The Castaway" takes its title from a saying of Lord Byron's, "Three great men ruined in one year—a king, a cad, and a castaway." The king was Napoleon; the cad, Beau Brummel; and the castaway, Lord Byron himself.

HEARTS COURAGEOUS.

Roberts, C. G. D.

THE WATCHERS OF THE TRAILS. Illustrated.

Mr. Roberts has written a most interesting series of tales free from the vices of the stories regarding animals of many other writers, accurate in their facts and admirably and dramatically told.

THE HEART OF THE ANCIENT WOOD. Illustrated.

One of the most fascinating novels of recent days. "A classic twentieth century romance."

Saunders, Marshall.

BEAUTIFUL JOE'S PARADISE.

Illustrated.

This book revives the spirit of "Beautiful Joe" capitally. It is fairly riotous with fun and as a whole is about as unusual as anything in the animal book line that has seen the light.

Stephens, R. N.

THE BRIGHT FACE OF DANGER.

Illustrated.

One of the best historical novels that has appeared in a decade. It combines gracefulness of diction, vigor of episode, a goodly proportion of novelty and the true romantic spirit.

Tracy, Louis.

THE GREAT MOGUL. Illustrated.

A new romance by the author of "Wings of the Morning."

Warner, C. D.

THE GOLDEN HOUSE. Illustrated.

Wilcox, Ella Wheeler.

A WOMAN OF THE WORLD.

Full of serious thought. Her ideals are high and the advice she gives is sound and sensible.

Williamson, Mrs. C. N.

MY LADY CINDERELLA.

Illustrated.

THE HOUSE BY THE LOCK.

Winter, Alice.

THE PRIZE TO THE HARDY. Illustrated.

A story of success honestly sought and bravely won, its recipe for achievement is the good American combination of pluck plus joy. The hero has it.

"A Hymnal which, at moderate cost, is admirably adapted for congregational use. I believe that congregational singing can never be attained without associating each hymn with a tune especially adapted to it, so that the mention of one suggests the other. The use of the old and familiar tunes, to which you have set so many of the hymns, will do much to make the singing a part of worship, instead of being, as it sometimes is, a performance to which the congregation listens; and in this way I trust your labor will be abundantly rewarded."—The Bishop of Pennsylvania.

Whittaker's Model of a Motor-Car.net 1.50

The model consists of colored charts bound up with explanatory letter-press in strong cardboard binding, measuring 9¼ inches by 13¼ inches. The colored charts are composed of several large and small plates folding upon each other, illustrating all the main parts of the car. The body, frame, running gear, motor, etc., are represented by appropriately colored and shaped pieces of heavy paper that fold into their proper place in the model, so as to convey a very good idea of their relative size and location. The text is condensed, yet clear, and with aid of the key will enable anyone to get a comprehensive idea of the workings of the Automobile.

LIST OF BOOKS

Edwin J. Houston.

THE YOUNG PROSPECTOR. A Story of Electrical Engineering in the West. Illustrated. 350 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Mr. Houston is one of the most famous electrical engineers of the present day, and his expert knowledge of this subject will alone recommend the volume.
Besides the valuable information which this story contains, the author has very cleverly interwoven a story of great interest, and shows the mining country of California as it is.
Through their acquaintance with an old mining engineer the young hero and his friend are invited to take a trip through the West, and it is while upon this trip that they become interested in mining engineering and through luck they happen upon a rich find.
Information and interest pervade the entire story, making it one which all young people will thoroughly enjoy.

Marion Ames Taggart.

SIX GIRLS AND BOB. A Story of Patty-Pans and Green Fields. Illustrated. 330 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This story might better be called one of city and country life, as the patty-pans represent the flat in which the Scollard family — consisting of six girls, Bob and their mother — lived in New York; while the green fields draw one's attention to the country life which this family ultimately took up with great profit to them all.
The various characteristics of the children that made up this family bring life and interest into the story, and what they accomplish and how they do it adds a most wholesome incentive.
The girls will find in Miss Taggart a writer whom they will all enjoy, and one whose sympathy is with them.

HECTOR, My Dog; His Autobiography. Life in the Northland. Illustrated. 332 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

A unique volume drawn from the life experience of a writer who spent long years of romantic adventure in semi-arctic regions.

The stories of Hector, the clever dog, the supposed narrator, are extremely entertaining. There are studies in dog nature, which every lover of these beautiful animals will read with intense pleasure; of his thrilling race with the great, gray wolf; of his trials in a land where all wood and hay were dragged home by the faithful dogs; and where they were even used in the springtime as substitutes for horses and oxen to plow up the fields and gardens of their masters. The volume is full of interesting information, and has become a classic on kindness to animals.

Sidford F. Hamp.

DALE AND FRASER — SHEEPMEN. A story of Colorado sheep-raising. Illustrated. 312 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This story is a picture of the life of a Western wool-grower, an existence eventful and oftentimes most exciting, teeming with the many adventures that fall to the lot of a sheepman of the high plains.

Most of the incidents contained in the story are drawn from actual facts, while not a few of them are the experiences of the author himself. It is a clear portrayal of the important wool-growing industry, as practised in Colorado, and its truthfulness will receive the indorsement of those who are best able to judge, namely, the many friends of the author among the sheepmen.

Mrs. C. V. Jamison.

SERAPH, THE LITTLE VIOLINISTE. Illustrated. 298 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE PENHALLOW FAMILY. A story. Illustrated. 317 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

One of the reasons for the great success of Mrs. Jamison's books is that she thoroughly understands young people and knows how to describe them naturally and truthfully.

One of her most charming stories is that in which she describes "Seraph, the little violiniste," the child with the wonderful gift of music, which finds its natural expression through the medium of the violin.

In "The Penhallow Family," the story is located in an old town in one of the British Provinces, while its families are drawn from one of the noblest of old Scotch families. The author's portrayal of the young heroine, in all her strength and beauty of character, adds much of value as well as interest.

Carolyn Wells.

THE DORRANCE DOMAIN. A story. Illustrated. 301 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

DORRANCE DOINGS. A story. Sequel to "The Dorrance Domain." Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Carolyn Wells, noted for the wit and humor which she introduces into her stories, has never written more entertaining volumes than these, in which she follows the ups and downs of the Dorrance family.

The Dorrance children, although well-bred, are by nature noisy and frolicsome, and the poor grandmother is at her wit's end to know what to do. It is when things look the darkest that the "Dorrance Domain" and the "Flower Folly" appear, both of which prove to be "godsends" to dear old Grandmother Dorrance and the Dorrance children. The "Domain" was theirs, and how during the summer they turned it to their advantage, their pleasure, and to success forms the groundwork for "The Dorrance Domain." But as the winter approached other arrangements had to be made. Life in the city was even more distasteful to this happy-go-lucky family than ever. As things looked the darkest the "Flower Folly" was chosen by the family as their winter home, and in the "Dorrance Doings" their life during the winter is graphically portrayed.

Every reader will be enthusiastic over the spirit and pluck of her characters.

Nina Rhoades.

RUTH CAMPBELL'S EXPERIMENT. A story. Illustrated. 288 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THAT PRESTON GIRL. A story. Illustrated. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

POLLY'S PREDICAMENT. A story. Illustrated. 341 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Miss Rhoades' up-to-date stories are just the ones which girls will enjoy, as they are true pictures of life, and contain experiences and adventures which have fallen to the lot of many. In "Ruth Campbell's Experiment" the author has depicted the life of a most interesting girl who worked her way up under adverse circumstances, while in "That Preston Girl" the author's heroine has been brought up with all the care which wealth could give. In both cases, however, when brought face to face with sorrow and hardships, the girls rise to meet them. Both are pictures of every-day life, and are strong and interesting.

In "Polly's Predicament," which is the author's latest, her characters are picturesque and strongly drawn, while the comparison between city and country life is most interesting.

She has also chosen as types the children of ten of the oldest tribes in this country, showing their many and peculiar characteristics.

In the "Ten Big Indians" she shows these same children grown up, calling attention to the many notable places which they held and worthy deeds which they accomplished.

The folk-lore of the American Indians is wonderfully interesting and in the third volume ("Indian Fairy Tales") the most famous stories which were passed down from generations to generation among the Indians are related, making the series complete and valuable as well as interesting.

The simple every-day life of the border, the makeshifts resorted to, the primitive amusements, with enough reference to Indian warfare to allow the existence of this horror to be understood — these have all been used as material for romances that show both the practical and the picturesque sides of life in the new settlements.

"The Spectacle Man" is a pretty, graceful story of a little maid who makes friends with every one and quite without intention brings good fortune to her family and to many others. It has a real plot, a rare possession in juvenile literature. — Boston Transcript.

"Mr. Pat's Little Girl" is a very bright, cheery story in which Miss Leonard succeeds to perfection in depicting children. They step out of the book so real, so lifelike, it would be hard to surpass the author. — Buffalo Times.

There is a thread of mystery running through "The Pleasant Street Partnership" that holds the interest to the end, while the bright philosophy and vein of humor make it a most delightful volume. — Examiner.

The spirit of the book is genial and wholesome; it teaches, but does not preach. — Boston Transcript.

Few writers of the present day have the ability to picture child life with such absolute naturalness as has the author of "On Hyacinth Hill."

This present story clusters around the lives of two children who come to spend the winter with their cousin. It tells how they adapt themselves to their new environments; how they make friends with the young mistress of Hyacinth Hill and her invalid brother, and what grew out of the association.

Simple in style and conception, this volume has the same valuable characteristics as have the previous stories by this same author.

In "A Courier of Empire," the author has taken as the basis for this stirring story of Western frontier life the famous ride of Marcus Whitman, when he rode in the dead of winter over the snow-capped Rockies to place before the American Congress the great value to the United States of the famous Oregon Territory.

The story is one full of adventure, and is based on valuable historical facts.

Eva Madden.

THE LITTLE QUEEN. Illustrated. 240 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

THE SOLDIERS OF THE DUKE. Illustrated. 279 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

There are certain portions of English history which are particularly interesting to American children as showing what life in the royal home really was; their work, their pleasures, and various experiences which go to make up their daily life. Therefore, into these stories the author has not only woven threads of English and French history, but has also given to the children pictures of foreign life.

In the simplicity of her style and the picturesqueness of her coloring Miss Madden has few equals, and her books find a ready welcome in the home and public libraries, and also in the school library reading courses.

"The Little Queen" is a tender, touching little story of child life. The time is a romantic period in the history of France and England, and the heroine is a little princess—a real, not a fairy princess.

Like the author's previous story, "The Soldiers of the Duke" is a peculiarly happy picture of child life as it appears in the royal home. The story embraces the early life of Prince William, the Duke of Gloucester, who was in direct succession to the throne of England. The young prince, his companions, their many larks and pleasures, are all pictured in a manner to fascinate younger readers, and, inasmuch as the story is based on actual history, the volume will have an added interest and value.

James Newton Baskett.

SWEETBRIER AND THISTLEDOWN. A story. With colored illustration. 340 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

This is an exceedingly interesting story by the author of "At You-All's House." Its characters are the most pleasing which have been woven into modern fiction. Throughout the entire book the author has introduced many bits of nature study which add much to the interest and value of the book.

Elsie, the heroine in the story, is taken by her mother from the city to the Missouri farm of Shan McBride, that she may learn from this gentle but strong man, to whom nature reveals her secrets, that plain and homely living may outwardly embody worth, nobility, and intelligence.

Charlotte M. Vaile.

THE ORCUTT GIRLS. Or, One Term at the Academy. Illustrated. 316 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

SUE ORCUTT. A sequel to "The Orcutt Girls." Illustrated. 335 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

WHEAT AND HUCKLEBERRIES. Or, Dr. Northmore's Daughters. Illustrated. 336 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE M. M. C. A story of the great Rockies. Illustrated. 232 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

Mrs. Vaile is evidently very familiar with the old academic system of instruction, for in "The Orcutt Girls" and "Sue Orcutt" she has told a story which will become famous as a description of a phase of old New England educational history which has now become a thing of the past. — Transcript.

"Orcutt Girls" and "Sue Orcutt" are exceptionally good school stories for girls, and depict that old academic life which used to be so great a feature in the life of New England. — Springfield Republican.

"Wheat and Huckleberries" is a story of two girls born and brought up in the rich farm regions of the Middle West who spend their summers in the New England home of their grandfather. The author has woven into the narrative the various peculiarities of both sections of the country. The story is exceptionally bright and spirited. — The Dial.

"The M. M. C." is a story of our own great land of the far-away West, — the region of great mines. It is sure to be welcomed by the boys. — Journal.

Frances Margaret Fox.

WHAT GLADYS SAW. A nature story of farm and forest. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE RAINBOW BRIDGE. A story. Illustrated. 254 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

These two stories by Miss Fox are widely different in character, yet they both display the author's ability to picture children with great naturalness.

Primarily, "What Gladys Saw" is a nature story containing a wealth of nature study such as the author is well known to have at her command. Still, this does not prevent the weaving in of a story about people that young readers will find particularly interesting, and which will aid in commending the book to them at once.

It is not the intention to treat nature in any scientific way; but the author strives to present it in the varied and rich forms in which it is naturally found on any well-conducted farm.

"The Rainbow Bridge" is a beautiful story of child life, and first introduces the reader into the Little Pilgrims' Home where Marian Lee was sent when but a wee little one.

The author vividly describes the life at the home; how one by one the children were adopted, and how Marian Lee finally was discovered by an aunt and taken to her Michigan home.

Anna Pierpont Siviter.

NEHE. A tale of the time of Artaxerxes. Illustrated. 318 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

Mingled with a tale of exciting adventure the author has woven in a true account of the internal conditions among the people of the island where revolutions are of frequent occurrence. — Transcript.

The Journal says of the "Son of the Revolution": "No one incident in the history of our country as a nation is so full of the picturesque as the wild scheme of treason which stirred the soul of Aaron Burr to plot against the country he had struggled to establish."

"The Godson of Lafayette" takes the hero through many adventures in all the stages of partisanship to the final awakening of the real disloyalty of Williams and his impossible schemes. It is as absorbing as the history is reliable, and the great figures — "heroes of the past and creators of the future of the republic" — as they move through the story give it a peculiar value, while never detracting from the brisk action and refreshing motion of the story. — North American.

H. Phelps Whitmarsh.

THE MYSTERIOUS VOYAGE OF THE DAPHNE. And other stories for boys and girls. Illustrated. 305 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

THE GOLDEN TALISMAN. Illustrated. 299 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"The Mysterious Voyage of the Daphne" is mechanically beautiful as to type and paper, and an unusually good collection of short stories, well and freely illustrated. Lieutenant Whitmarsh contributes two unique sea stories, which are instructive as well as very interesting. Others are by the best-known writers for young people in the country. — Dial.

"The Golden Talisman" tells of the adventures of a young Oriental in his travels the world over to find the secrets of perfume making. It is hearty in tone and unflagging in interest, while the story carries with it a fund of uncommon and valuable information. It is undoubtedly one of the best books of its kind ever penned. — Inter-Ocean.

The author has treated the entire subject in story form, and made not only a delightful book, but one which is so authentic as to be of great value at this period. — New York Times.

Blanche M. Channing.

THE BALASTER BOYS. A story. Illustrated. Cloth. 294 pp. $1.25.

The story is based upon the home life of a professor's family, which contains three wide-awake boys. Into this group comes a girl cousin to spend her summer vacation. Being left an orphan, the little girl has been given the privilege of choosing where she would prefer to live, whether with her great-aunt (a spinster) or with her mother's sister, the wife of the good professor.
Throughout the neighborhood the boys of this family have always been looked upon as almost ungovernable, but as time goes on, after the little girl has made her choice of taking up her home with them, her good influence is at once made manifest in the conduct of the boys. It is a volume full of good influences, and the wealth of originality it contains will aid materially in making the book exceedingly popular.

The Boston Journal says of "When Boston Braved the King": "It is a pleasure to read and recommend such a book as this. Certainly no author of popular, useful, and commendable literature ever begun his career more auspiciously."

The scenes of the "Prairie Schooner" are laid in and around Chicago about the year of 1831, and the story concerning the Black Hawk War is correct in its historical data. The author's knowledge of this locality in those days aids him in throwing an introspecting light on the early history of Chicago. — Post.

In "Lost in Nicaragua" Mr. Butterworth, with his master-hand, most delightfully mingles Aztec legends with up-to-date information about the canal. It makes a most acceptable book for boys and girls. — Journal.

OUT OF A FLEUR-DE-LIS. The History, Romance, and Biography of the St. Louis World's Fair. Illustrated. 432 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

One of the most stirring conflicts that the southern hemisphere has known, — the Chile-Peruvian War, — is here chronicled in the form of a story in "Fighting Under the Southern Cross." The characters are drawn from real life, the author having been a resident of Peru during the period treated of, and was an eye-witness of many of the scenes described, besides being familiar with many of the principals in the event. — The Brooklyn Eagle.

"Incaland" tells of some of the most stirring incidents of the Chile-Peruvian War. Any boy who reads this realistic narrative unconsciously acquires familiarity, not only with the history, but with the manners and aspect of this historic land. It is a ringing boys' story. — Milwaukee Free Press.

The young people whose knowledge of coffee ends with its taste at the breakfast table will be both interested and profited by reading this lively account of life on a great coffee plantation, as told "In a Brazilian Jungle." Hairbreadth escapes, eccentric forms of life, and unexpected turns of personal fortune fill up a stirring biograph. — Watchman, Boston.

So much historical information and the graphic descriptions of the many wonderful things that will be seen and learned at the St. Louis Fair makes "Out of a Fleur-de-Lis" of peculiar interest. One thing we are sure of, — every one who reads it will want to go to the Fair. The book is furnished with pictures of the buildings and diagrams of the grounds, and we warmly commend it as a gift to young people. — Christian Observer, Louisville.

There is a fund of knowledge and amusement to be found within its covers. — The Mirror, St. Louis.

So cleverly is the real object of the story disguised that the reader finds himself so interested in the tale that he fails to observe that he is absorbing valuable information concerning the Exposition. — Boston Transcript.

Charles Ledyard Norton.

(Fighting for the Flag Series.) Illustrated. 3 vols. The set in a box $3.75.

JACK BENSON'S LOG. Or, Afloat with the Flag in '61. 276 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

A MEDAL OF HONOR MAN. Or, Cruising among Blockade Runners. 280 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

MIDSHIPMAN JACK. 290 pp. Cloth. $1.25.

"Jack Benson's Log" is an historical story for boys. The hero, Jack Benson, enlisted at the beginning of the Civil War. His first ship was "Old Ironsides," and in one way or the other he sees most of the important events of the war. — Tribune.

"A Medal of Honor Man" is a clever story of a sailor boy's life in the blockading fleet during the late Civil War. It gives a new view of sailor life, and, while its historical facts are correctly stated, it tells a tale of adventure in a breezy and taking fashion that will insure for the book a wide reading. — Daily Advertiser.

"A Medal of Honor Man" is a very entertaining story, having to do with naval service, blockade runners, and the famous "Alabama." — Advocate.

"Midshipman Jack" is a capital story of the naval service during the Civil War. The hero goes through many stirring adventures and participates in Farragut's exploit at Mobile in 1864 where he was wounded. — Interior.

A SOLDIER OF THE LEGION. A story of the great Northwest. Illustrated. 291 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

THE QUEEN'S RANGERS. A story of Revolutionary times. Illustrated. 351 pp. Cloth. $1.50.

"A Soldier of the Legion" is a story of the Northwest one hundred years ago. The tale is of two boys who together fought the Indians and the British, and who saw the surrender of Cornwallis. One of the boys was William Henry Harrison, who became president. The life of the time is vividly portrayed, and the story, although not purely historical, has a positive historic value. — Bookseller.

Blessed is the writer who has happily coupled historical truth with an interesting story, as has Charles Ledyard Norton in "The Queen's Rangers." Three young patriots, stranded in New York during General Howe's occupation, band themselves together and agree that the best way to serve the colonies for the present is to enlist under the British flag. Then begins a series of stirring exploits which does not end until they all regain their true allegiance after the Battle of Brandywine. It is a book which young lovers of history will prize. — World.

WAYS OF WORKING. Or, Helpful Hints for Sunday-school Officers and Teachers. 238 pp. Cloth. $1.00.

The name of the author of "The Teacher, The Child and The Book" attaches to this excellent volume an essential popularity and value. With a life spent in Sunday-school work, he is peculiarly fitted to write such a volume.

Child nature and the nature of the book itself are taken up most carefully; "for," says the author, "only with a thorough knowledge of both of these can the best results be obtained." We most heartily recommend it. — Bible Teacher.

"Ways of Working" considers the duties of the different officers of the Sunday-school, going into detail in many cases. The preparation of the lessons, the art of questioning, the work of the teacher, the music, the blackboard, graded schools, the library, the primary class, all have their place, and what Dr. Schauffler says is not mere fine theory, but what he has tried and proved in his own work.

ANDERSON, Sir Robert, K.C.B., LL.D.

Christianized Rationalism, a reply to Harnack's "What Is Christianity?"

Cloth. 6¾ x 4¾. 90 pages. Net, 50 cents

"Makes some capital points against destructive criticism and states them vigorously."—Lutheran Observer.

"This is a popular reply to Prof. Harnack's 'What is Christianity?' incidentally dealing with the whole subject of Higher Criticism. It does not attempt a minute refutation of the assertions of the new school of critics. The book is welcome as a proof that the revolutionary character of the assaults can be exhibited without this scholarly apparatus. More briefly than Dr. Johnson's 'Bible Criticism and the Average Man,' or Rev. Dr. Thomas Whitelaw's 'Old Testament Critics,' it presents the argument to those who, though without special education, are serious and sober in judgment of Christianity."—The Presbyterian.

BARNES, Lemuel Call, D.D.

Two Thousand Years of Missions before Carey. Net, $1.50

"Dr. Lemuel Call Barnes, for many years pastor of the Fourth Avenue Baptist Church, Pittsburg, has ever been an enthusiastic student of missions. Amid the cares of a busy pastorate in a twentieth century church, with all its many activities, Dr. Barnes has found time to make extensive researches along lines of church history but little known, and has written a most readable and inspiring book. . . . Impartiality is the church historian's rarest virtue, but Dr. Barnes displays it."—Pittsburg Commercial-Gazette.

"This volume at once takes rank as a standard work, indispensable to any thorough student of Christian mission. Numerous as are the works on the subject, this alone fills great gaps in the record with memorable facts and names. A conspicuous trait is the fair appreciation which this Protestant writer gives Roman Catholic missionaries. One sees from his account of Spanish missions in the Philippines that our own hope in solving the problem there confronting us centers in our missionaries. . . . A chronological conspectus and selected bibliography and an index leave nothing to be desired in this compact and comprehensive work."—The Outlook, New York.

BRADT, Charles E., Ph.D.

The Key to the Kingdom, an Exposition of the Great Commission.

Cloth. 6¾ x 5. 160 pages. Net, 50 cents

Dr. Bradt is the pastor of the well-known First Presbyterian Church of Wichita, Kansas, the church whose wonderful success is attributed to its committing itself unreservedly to the condition of the Great Commission. This book is a strong and indeed an unanswerable exposition of the present day authority of that commission in the church.

"This little volume is a red-hot appeal for literal and immediate obedience to the 'Great Commission' of Christ: 'Go ye, therefore, and make disciples of all the nations,' etc.; a cry to evangelical Christians to do more, much more, very much more, for Home and Foreign Missions. He likens this commission to a key which opens the King's vestry, the King's council chamber, and the windows of heaven. Though addressed primarily to the one million members of the Presbyterian Church, there is, of course, an appeal to every member of the kingdom of heaven. He quotes with approval and delight the not yet obsolete Pastor Louis Harms and the Hermannsburg missions. Any Christian will find benefit in its perusal, and if only the rich in the Church do much more and the poorer more than they have done, the author's prayer will be answered."—Lutheran Observer.

"For general and satisfactory use we have seen nothing to compare with Mr. Burgess' work."—The Christian Guardian.

"Pre-eminently the religious book of the year and bound to command instant attention."—Chicago Examiner.

"In the matter of material, workmanship and good taste we have never seen a better or more pleasing sample of the bookmaker's art. We have seen nothing to compare with Mr. Burgess' work.—Christian Guardian.

The Religion of Ruskin.

Library. Boxed. Net, $2.00

"The author's masterpiece."

"An apostle of beauty and truth, indeed, Ruskin is primarily an apostle of righteousness."—Newell Dwight Hillis, D.D.

"A daughter of an old Scotch friend of Ruskin's visited at their home at Herne Hill, London. The young lady was strikingly beautiful. She challenged Ruskin to write her a fairy story, and the story of 'The King of the Golden River' is the result. For reasons of their own, Ruskin's parents advised him to marry this lady. . . . Nothing is said of this marriage in any of Ruskin's letters. His bride is not mentioned in his biographical writings. Whatever may have been the cause of it, certainly, the marriage was not a happy one. Ruskin was far too generous a man to parade any fault he may have found in his wife. He simply drew a veil of silence over the whole matter. Only five years had passed away when Millais, the celebrated artist, while a guest at their home, painted the portraits of both Mr. and Mrs. John Ruskin. Then followed, in quick succession, the return of Mrs. Ruskin to her parents' home, an appeal in the Scotch court for the nullity of their marriage tie, in which Ruskin acquiesced, and the marriage of the beautiful wife to Millais. This sad end of his domestic life is perhaps without a parallel among men."—Extract from Ch. II of "The Religion of Ruskin."

BROWN, Elijah P., D.D.

From Nowhere to Beulah Land.

Cloth. 6¾ x 5. 170 pages. Net, 50 cents

As the founder of "The Ram's Horn," and as its most brilliant writer for many years, Dr. Brown has earned a remarkable reputation for strikingly original treatment of religious themes. "From Nowhere to Beulah Land" is in his very best vein; honest, humorous, keen, kindly, good sense and strong satire with spiritual fervor combine to make this a unique and an exceedingly attractive book

"That Dr. Brown, the founder of 'The Ram's Horn,' can write effectively is too well known to need discussion, but nowhere has he been more forceful than in this simple story of his conversion from infidelity. In a brief, straightforward and convincing way he tells the story of his early home life, of poverty and despair, the long solemn Sundays that chilled his heart and made religion repulsive to him, his troubles, doubts and perplexities as he considered his own miserable life and the joyless people he met in churches. The story hurries through the many influences that led him into infidelity, but dwells in detail upon the Moody meeting, where at the age of forty-four he was led to accept Christ.

"As a story it is well worth reading, as an experience is eloquent and helpful."—Talent.

BEARD, Frederica.

Manual for Teachers on Old Testament Lessons for children from seven to ten years of age.

Cloth. 8¼ x 5. 140 pages. Net. 75 cents

Teaches both teacher and parent how to present the lessons of the Old Testament to the child mind.

Wonder Stories from the Gospels.

Cloth. 6¼ x 5. 80 pages. Net, 25 cents

Miss Beard's temperament, training and extensive experience especially qualified her for the work of arranging these stories. They are told simply but without losing their power, and their true relation to the great truths of the Bible is never lost sight of.

Teachers' Notes on New Testament Lessons.

Cloth. 8¼ x 5. 80 pages. Net, 40 cents

This book makes entirely practical Miss Beard's other volume containing "Wonder Stories from the Gospels." Children 9 and 10 years of age turn naturally to stories in which is the element of wonder, if they are sufficiently realistic and human not to seem incredible to them. "Wonder Stories" provides these, and "Teachers' Notes" shows how to make the best use of them.

BAER, John Willis.

An Easter Message for Hearts Bereaved. Art covers. Illuminations and type designed by Bertha L. Corbett.

"Concerning Them Which Are Asleep," by Daniel H. Martin, and "An Easter Message to Hearts Bereaved," by John Willis Baer, are both messages of comfort inspired by the Easter time. The first mentioned is the larger and more elaborate booklet, the latter short but unique in conception and execution of design and printing. Both are worthy to put into the hands of bereaved friends or to read for one's own heart comfort."—Park Review.

BROWNSON, Mary W.

His Sister.

Cloth. 7 x 5. Net, 35 cents

A beautiful story of our Lord's life, from a new point of view, put out in a dainty, fitting book. A charming gift.

"A little book by Mary W. Brownson was issued about Easter-time, under the title, 'His Sister.' . . . There seems to be a specially close relation between the author and her book, for by nature and by training the religious field seems to be hers. There is reverence in the plot, and particularly in the portrayal of the character of Jesus; emotion is displayed in several scenes and characters; intellectual training is shown in the recreation of the facts of Christ's daily life and surroundings. The author's wide and deep knowledge of Biblical thought and time, as well as personal observation of the Holy Land where Christ walked, give reality and meaning to the story. Such attributes of mind and heart enabled her to write a most interesting story."—Book Review.

COPE, Henry F.

The Bonanza Bible Class.

Cloth. 8 x 5½. Illustrated. 265 pages. Net, $1.00

Mr. Cope is well known as a writer of short stories and sketches of the Rocky Mountain region. He has also been for a number of years the writer of the epigrams in "The Sunday School Times," and "The Ram's Horn."

This book is a narrative of the lives and characters of miners in the Rockies, in a typical small camp; and into the story there is woven an account of their informal, breezy discussions of practical and Biblical problems. Mr. Cope not only knows the mountains and their men, but he knows how to picture them.

Family Worship.

Cloth, 50 cents, Leather, 75 cents

It will doubtless be one of the best selling books of the year and especially at the Bible conference which is to be held at those popular grounds this summer. The work is a credit to the publishers. The paper is heavy, the margins are wide, the type is clear and distinct and the binding is strong and beautiful. It is a pleasure to take up such a book. It is a work of surpassing excellence, whether viewed from the standpoint of theology, scholarship or literary elegance. The author is not Marcus Dodds, but an American, who in some respects at least is certainly his equal. The book is from the pen of the Rev. R. C. Dodds, D.D., the able and popular pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Lansing, Mich."—New York Observer.

HALLENBECK, Edwin Forrest, D.D.

The Passion for Souls. A plea for Christian Endeavor in Soul Winning.

Cloth. 4¼ x 7. 134 pages. Net, 40 cents

Equal, if not superior, to any book on Modern Soul Winning. One Evangelist says after reading it, "I believe it impossible for a child of God to read this book without being inspired to greater efforts in this blessed work."

"For several years there has been a growing interest in 'individual work for individuals,' and this has created a demand for books upon this subject. All are more or less interesting but some of the theories when applied are found to be impracticable. The author of 'The Passion for Souls,' is a minister of the gospel who has been successful in winning souls for the Master, and his book is the outgrowth of his experience. He is a conspicuous leader of young people in New York, and his success with them has eminently qualified him for writing this book, which is among the best that has dropped from the press. The author's 'passion' is contagious. You lay the book down with a desire to be more used of God in the great work of saving souls, and with sorrow that you have accomplished so little."—Raleigh Christian Advocate.

It is a very clear, convincing, sane and scientific presentation.

"Is a well written and well executed book of 290 pp., 12mo. $1.50, net. Dr. Isaac Watts was only nine years old when he made the choice that was never reversed. Matthew Henry was a professed Christian at eleven, and Robert Hall, the greatest of English preachers of the past century, at twelve. Dr. John Hall united with the church at fourteen, and Dr. A. J. Gordon, the eminent revivalist of Boston, at sixteen.' There is more of the same sort."—Christian Advocate.

LANCASTER, Rev. Richard Venable, D.D.

The Creed of Christ.

Cloth 12mo. Net, 75 cents

The first chapter, or introduction, sets forth the fact that every man has a creed and that his life and character show what it is. Following this is a short discussion of the relation of the human mind to religious study, and a chapter on reasons for studying the Creed of Christ. Then comes the main purpose of the book, which is to show the attitude of Christ towards certain articles of faith, as the Scriptures, God, Satan, sin, punishment, himself, redeemed man, the kingdom, the kingdom in the world, the Holy Spirit, the home-going, the second-coming, the final glory. The whole is a study not so much of what our Saviour taught as what he believed upon these great themes. The author's style is clear and direct, his processes logical and sound, and altogether he has made a fresh, readable treatise which will be profitable to every one who will faithfully follow its development of the subject.

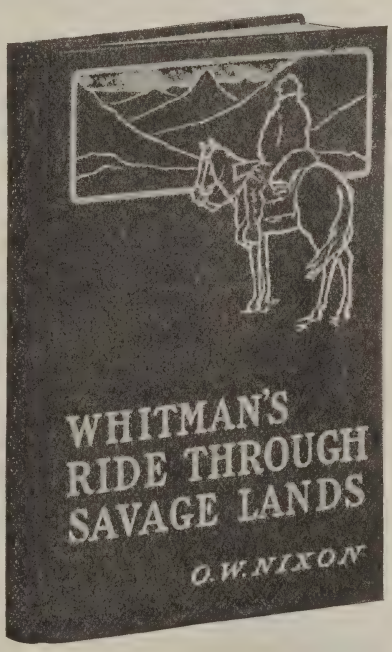
Whitman's Ride Through Savage Lands. Missionary History in America Graphically and Fascinatingly told. With Sketches of Indian Life. Handsomely illustrated. With Introduction by James G. K. McClure, D.D., LL.D.

Cloth. Decorated cover.
Net, $1.00



"The Winona Publishing Company of Chicago issues a work by the late O. W. Nixon, LL. D., with the title 'Whitman's Ride Through Savage Lands, with Sketches of Indian Life.' There is an introduction by J. G. K. McClure, D.D., LL. D. The book contains many pictures, including a portrait of the author. Dr. Nixon did not live to see this book, as the first proofs were received by him the day of his death at Biloxi, Miss. Dr. Nixon wrote with authority, as he was the first man to carefully preserve for history the labors of Whitman. It was largely through Dr. Nixon's efforts that the Whitman college at Walla Walla was brought to its present condition of prosperity. Dr. Nixon tells the story of Whitman's ride to Oregon with his bride, leading a band of colonists, and of the massacre in which the hero met his death. Dr. Nixon was long identified with journalism and for some years literary editor of the Inter-Ocean."—The Denver News-Times.

"Marcus Whitman could have had no more appreciative biographer than Dr. Nixon. He had the rare gift of sympathetic understanding which illuminates every act.

"Not only is the book valuable for its original material, but also for the thoroughness with which the compiler has handled it. His own personality is never obtrusive, but is a vital factor in the presentation of the story.

"It is fortunate, indeed, that these chronicles of the northwest have brought to light the glorious story of the life and death of the Martyr, Marcus Whitman."—Chicago Daily Journal.

"It is informing and authoritative and a timely contribution concerning the men who built up the great northwest, and who are memorialized in the Centenary at Portland."—Chicago Daily News.

"Personal Worker's Testament, arranged by J. Wilbur Chapman and his colleagues in evangelism, is a unique little volume suggestive of the importance of personal service. In size and weight fitted for the pocket, it contains the entire New Testament, following the version of the American Standard edition. But upon the first flyleaf is a blank form of pledge to personal work, to be signed by the owner, and upon other fly-leaves at the back are blanks for the insertion of the names for which prayer is pledged, with a blank date to be filled out with the day when the friend for whom prayer was offered surrendered to the Saviour. Upon certain selected topics, such as 'The consequences of sin' and 'Fear of not holding out,' a series of short Bible-readings is arranged, the verses to be read being printed in black-faced type while in the margin is a reference to some corroborative text. This part of the work we have examined very closely and find it to be well done. These verses might be given out in any prayer meeting with profit; in an inquiry-meeting they could hardly fail to produce excellent results."—The Interior.

PRICE, Ira Maurice, Ph.D.—Professor of Semitic Languages and Literature in the University of Chicago.

The Monuments and the Old Testament. Oriental Light on Holy Writ.

With Maps and Illustrations. Net, $1.50

"The corroborative and other testimonies cited are in most instances given from first-hand knowledge of the monuments themselves, and in every case the authorities consulted are handled by the best judgment of a trained mind. Professor Price is himself an authority in oriental scholarship, having done much original work in transcribing inscriptions in the museums of Europe, and in translating original Assyrian and Babylonian documents.

"Every public library will want it, and every minister and Sunday-school worker will find in it material on the Old Testament which has been long desired. Students and teachers of ancient oriental history will find here material which can be duplicated only in large and expensive technical treatises.

"The records of these excavations, discoveries, and decipherments now fill scores of volumes extending through a half-century of time, but this is the only single volume that attempts to cover the whole field in a systematic and chronological order.

"We are indebted to Dr. Ira M. Price for an interesting and fascinating book. The contents are indeed valuable. His study of the monuments in the various museums of the world, his familiarity with all that is known and written of excavations, inscriptions and explorations, has evidently made him perfectly at home with a period which, less than a hundred years ago, was considered prehistoric, for at that time there was not a single document contemporaneous with the Old Testament known to be in existence. His touch is that of a master hand. . . . Not only will Biblical students appreciate the valuable service rendered by Dr. Price, but all who love history will be his debtors."—Public Opinion.

Culture and Religion.

Decorated cloth. (Inner Circle Series.) Net, 25 cents

Especially intended for a commencement gift; fittingly and beautifully made.

"'Culture and Religion,' by Rev. A. A. Pfanstiehl. This exquisitely dainty booklet preserves a baccalaureate address delivered by the thoughtful pastor at Highland Park, Ill., to the graduating class of the military academy located there. Mr. Pfanstiehl has a right to speak of both culture and religion, being nearly acquainted with both at first hand, and in this address he has spoken of their relations and their combined influence of life in a fashion to command the respect and practice of young men who have been brought up under the strenuous discipline of a military school. He clears poised Christian manhood of all suspicion of namby-pambyism. At the same time he faithfully points out the dangers attendant on the cheap learning that vaunts itself in its meager attainments. When the commencement and baccalaureate season comes round again, many parents and friends of young graduates will find in this beautiful booklet a helpful and significant graduation-day present."—The Interior.

RILEY, William B., D.D.

The Perennial Revival.

Cloth. 8 x 5½. 323 pages. Net, $1.25

A very forcible plea for the kind of revival that ought to prevail in the churches. Mr. Riley is well known not only as the Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Minneapolis, but also for his unique work in revivals and in stimulating Christian workers at Summer Assemblies to the very kind of efforts emphasized in his book. The treatment of this theme is both spirited and spiritual; stimulating and instructive.

"The Perennial Revival: A plea for Evangelism, by William B. Riley, is particularly interesting at this time when there seems to be a general awaking in religious matters. The author says that Evangelism has been on the decline for fifteen years. How to evangelize so as to produce the best results and permanent ones is the aim of the author, who sets forth, in some fifteen chapters, the imperative need of a perennial revival. The book is made interesting by anecdotes and personal reminiscences, and very pertinently the author says: 'No man can look out upon the earth to-day and witness the conflicts between rulers and nations, the necessity for sword and slaughter, without longing in his heart for the time to come when men shall cease from the shedding of blood, when oppression shall be no more."—The Bookseller.

TROTTER, Melvin W.

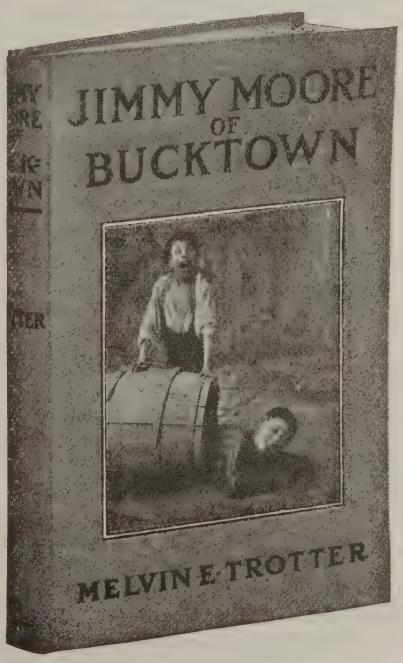
Jimmy Moore of Bucktown.

Cloth. Decorated cover. 7¾ x 5.
Net, 75 cents

A most readable and breezy book, setting forth in story form actual conditions and happenings in a large Michigan city.

A new edition illustrated. Its fame has traveled far. Evening Bulletin, Honolulu, T. H., says:

"Not a goody-goody but a very good book indeed. And the best of it is that it tells a true story in plain English—in the English of the very common people it deals with.



"There is no cant about it, though it stands for true religion, and as an account of Christian work among the people of the slums it is the best I have read in some time. Less heralded than "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," in many respects it is quite as good and quite as touching."

Other Comments. "Certainly a Great Book."

"'Jimmy Moore of Bucktown' is a real live story. It isn't fiction, nor is it romance. It is hard truth—so hard that it fascinates the reader as much as though it were fiction of the highest type. It is written in a style that holds the reader's attention from the start. The author should be a newspaper man. He may have had some experience in that line. He writes in the clean-cut direct understandable language of the newspaper worker. He simply tells his story in his own racy way and in the vernacular of the district."—The Burlington Hawkeye.

"This is a splendid book, and none should fail to secure a copy and read it."—The Southern Star.

"Trotter is an original fellow and does nothing in a conventional way. The skill he has displayed in delineating the characters is indeed remarkable. The story is absorbingly interesting from beginning to end, and despite the fact that his theme is a religious one, the book is absolutely free from cant and dogmatism. In fact, it does not read like a religious book at all, and everyone who picks it up will be entranced by the freshness of the style, the novelty of the situations and the naturalness of the characters. There is not a dull page or a prosy line in the volume, and it ought to have a record-breaking sale."—Soo Times.

Grove City, Pa.

I hasten to write that I am very much pleased with the book of "Hymns, Psalms, and Gospel Songs." The five hundred copies we have received for our Bible school we will keep and use in our chapel services, believing that there is nothing to equal it. . . . I think you have done a great service to the Church. Sincerely yours,

ISAAC C. KETLER.
President Grove City College.

Robert M. Russell, D.D., Pastor Sixth United Presbyterian Church, Pittsburg, says:

"The book seems to me to contain a fine selection of hymns, while it is greatly enriched by the Psalms which we United Presbyterians love."

New York City.

You cannot know with what pleasure I examined an advance copy of the combination "Hymns, Psalms and Gospel Songs." . . . For some time I have had in mind selecting a hundred Psalm portions and as many hymns and having them published together. . . . I congratulate myself to have been in such harmony with your ideas. This is the first song book that I feel that without qualification I can heartily endorse. So enthusiastic am I for it that I have ordered five hundred to be used in the Bible school.

Very sincerely yours,
WILBERT W. WHITE,
President Bible Teachers' Training School, New York City.

The First Baptist Church, Chicago Ill.

We have been using "Hymns, Psalms and Gospel Songs" for some time in our Church. We also use it at Raymond Chapel, a branch of our Church. I can recommend it heartily and without qualification I believe it to be the very best hymnal that exists to-day for prayer meetings and Sunday evening services. It is also admirably adapted for use in the Sunday school and at the Sunday morning service.

I hope that the fame of this splendid book may spread far and wide.

(Reverend Doctor) AUSTEN K. DE BLOIS.

Toledo, Ohio.

"Hymns, Psalms and Gospel Songs" is certainly a most excellent Church Hymnal. Considering its cost and excellent adaptation to the needs of the average congregation, I would unhesitatingly pronounce it "the very best."

Yours truly,
(Reverend Doctor) J. E. Fout,
Pastor Memorial United Brethren Church.

Conquest Hymns, New and Old.

Full cloth. Elegantly bound. 256 pages. Responsive readings. etc. Net, 25 cents

Edited by Louis D. Eichhorn, assisted by Charles H. Gabriel and Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. 40,000 copies in six months is a good record for one Sunday school hymnal and anyone who has tried the book can readily understand the cause of this phenomenal sale. No pains nor money was spared to make it the very best. If you are interested and desire to try some of its songs send for a free returnable sample of Conquest hymns.

Conquest Hymns is a most choice collection of old and new Gospel Songs.

The market does not present to-day a book that is attracting more attention. One could not examine it without being impressed with the fact that it has been very carefully and wisely compiled. The several departments of religious services have each in its own place been given special attention by those who certainly must have known the needs for such occasions. The collection contains the very best old pieces by the most prominent authors of the day, and indeed in each case the few pieces which have made the author famous will be found in this collection. Besides the old pieces adapted for use in the church, Sunday school, young people's, evangelistic and devotional services, the new pieces also are selected, not from one author, but as the book will show, from the very best writers of to-day. The general favor with which this book deserves to be received will certainly be beyond that which is ordinary.

Conquest Hymns is making history for itself. The very fact that the publishers have spared no expense in the purchase of permissions to use the most valuable copyrights of the various writers of to-day, shows very clearly that the book was designed to occupy a very high place in the service of the cause of Christ.

We all recognize that new impressions and new inspiration come from new music. While we like to sing the old songs that by their association will bring to our memory some very precious moments of communion and fellowship in the past, yet the new music is indispensable for new conquests.

The make-up of the book is the very best. Strongly sewed, lies open flat, elegantly bound in vellum de luxe cloth. The price is very modest, $25.00 per 100. It contains 256 pages, and 167 pieces of music with responsive readings.

Hymns and Spiritual Songs.

Full cloth. 192 pages. 30 cents each. $25.00 per 100

Compiled by John P. Hillis and Henry Ostrom. These songs have been selected with great care and after long experience in the needs of revival services, the prayer meeting and the Sunday school. They will be found to be both spiritual and musical.

Permit me to express the appreciation of our Sunday School and Epworth League at the excellence of your book. We find it well adapted to the requirements of these services. The book is a favorite with us and we meet with pleasant surprises in the new songs at nearly every service —Charles P. Cableman, Supt. M. E. Sunday School, Waverly, Ohio.

I received a copy of your new book, "Hymns, and Spiritual Songs," which I carefully examined at the time. I then unhestitatingly pronounced it the very best book I had seen, and I have had no cause to change my mind since.—Rev. Leslie J. Naftzgar, Presiding Elder, M. E. Church, Muncie, Indiana.

Having used "Hymns and Spiritual Songs" for a month it gives me great pleasure to recommend it as a worthy instrument in the service of the gospel. This book combines the best of the old and new songs. The type is good and the binding most attractive. It deserves a wide circulation.—Edward B. Turner, Supt. Sabbath School, Central Union Church, Honolulu, H. I.

Our Sunday School has been using your "Hymns and Spiritual Songs" for several weeks. It is truly a bright casket of song gems. Our school is much pleased with it.—J. E. Richardson, Chorister; Rev. S. F. Wood, Pastor, M. E. Church, McConnellsville, Ohio.

I took quite a fancy to the book at the convention, and have since looked it over carefully. Hillis has put up a fine collection of songs that in my judgment are going to strike fine with our Associations. It seemed to do the business at Alton.—K. A. Shumaker, Ass't. State Secretary, Illinois, Y. M. C. A.

I congratulate you most heartily. There is only one voice in the verdict. Splendid. Everybody is pleased. The old reliable songs are selected with rare judgment and give great satisfaction, while the cluster of new gems is a constant and growing delight. I am especially pleased to note your excellent personal compositions.—Rev. Sherman Powell, Pastor, M. E. Church, Redkey, Ind.

Hymns for His Praise No. 2.

Compiled and edited by Rev. William Edward Biederwolf, D.D., and Harper G. Smyth. James McGranahan, the world-famed song-writer, is also a special contributor to this book. The book is specially intended for use in evangelistic meetings, young people's societies, mid-week prayer meetings and Sunday schools.

170 full music pages, responsive readings, etc.

Stiff cloth,, $25.00 per 100. Manila, $15.00 per 100.

This book will be very generally used by evangelists all over the country, and expressions of approval are constantly being received by the publishers for the excellence of the book. Its predecessor, "Hymns of Praise No. 1"—established such a fine reputation that the new book bounds into favor.

Probably no song book put out for the price contains such a remarkably high average of "singable" hymns. There is a most careful selection of the old familiar hymns which cannot be omitted, there are many of the later songs which have won the approval of Christian people, and a large number of the very latest copyright songs. The variety of selections for solos, duets, etc., is exceptional. The book reflects great credit on both editors and song writers.

Dr. Biederwolf's successful career as an evangelist and preacher has given him a peculiar equipment for the editing of a book to fit the needs of the church at large. The result of his labor in this direction as shown in "Hymns for His Praise No. 2," is in every way worthy of his brilliant reputation.

In constant touch for many years with pastors, evangelists and Sunday school superintendents, we have come to learn and appreciate what seems to be an almost universal desire concerning the class of song books to which this one belongs. It is needless to say how very much we believe "Hymns for His Praise No. 2" will meet the ever growing demand to which we have referred.

We respectfully ask those seeking for a song book for use in evangelistic meetings, young people's societies, mid-week prayer service and Sunday schools to notice:

First. The large number of old familiar hymns that have always been dear to the church and whose worth we can never overestimate.

Second. The large number of more modern songs that have been tried and proven and are deservedly popular with Christian people everywhere.

Third. The large number of the latest and most expensive copyrighted songs that can be procured.

Fourth. The large number of pieces appropriate for solos, duets, etc.

Fifth. The unusual size of the book for the moderate price for which it sells.

Trusting that this selection of songs may prove to be all that we hope for it and that the hearts and consciences of thousands may be quickened by their use, we send them forth on their mission with grateful acknowledgment to Him in whose Name we believe they have all been written.

Hymns for His Praise No. 2, ready for delivery in September. Watch for it.

Boards, 20 cents; Flexible cloth, 15 cents; Manila, 10 cents.

Songs of Praise No. 2.

Compiled and edited by Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D.D., and Mr. O. F. Pugh. Contains many modern favorites such as the now famous "Glory Song" and "The King's Business," as well as many others that have sung themselves around the world, with a liberal number of old and tried hymns.

Songs of Worship and of Grace.

Edited by L. W. Munhall, D.D. These favorites, both old and new, have sung the Gospel into many thousands of hearts all over the land.

104 selections. Board covers, single copies, 10 cents, per 100 copies, $9.00. Cloth covers, single copies, 15 cents, per 100 copies, $14.00. Not prepaid.

This book is intended for use in prayer and devotional meetings and evangelistic services.

It contains one hundred and four carefully made selections. Eighteen are Psalms, the music to which is dignified and helpful to true worship. About forty are of the very best standard hymns of the church, set to classical music of the highest order. There are thirty revival hymns proven by large experience to be most effective. The rest are miscellaneous. There are a number of new hymns in this book, and nothing unmeritorious and trashy.

Through the courtesy of the following friends the editor has been permitted the use of some of their choicest music: W. H. Doane, D. B. Towner, Mrs. Joseph F. Knapp, Wm. J. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. M. B. Willson, John J. Lowe, Theodore E. Perkins, Rev. J. E. Rankin, H. L. Gilmour, Weeden & Van De Venter, O. F. Pugh, J. Wilbur Chapman, Grant Colfax Tullar, I. H. Meredith and C. H. Gabriel.

What Others Say

OF THE

"International" Series of Bibles

Sunday-School Times.

"This Teacher's Manual, as the Helps are called, is deserving of high praise. It is up to date, well selected, full of life. The arrangement is simple and clear, the illustrations and maps new and admirable. . . . The portion of the manual devoted especially to the New Testament is decidedly better than the similar portion in the 'Aids' appended to other Teachers' Bibles up to the present time. . . . In part III. Dr. Plummer contributes the 'Summary of Books for the New Testament.' This monograph may be regarded as one of the best popular treatises on New Testament introduction. . . . If faithfully used, it will do much to increase accurate knowledge of the Word of God. . . It marks progress toward the true ideal."

Rev. Harlan P. Beach, Superintendent School for Christian Workers, Springfield, Mass.

"In a word, it is a PRACTICAL and SPIRITUALLY helpful Bible, and especially adapted to SUNDAY-SCHOOL workers, and it is one which in the TEXT itself, which is read far more than the Helps, furnishes the LARGEST, CLEAREST TYPE that can be found in similar compass."

Rev. A. E. Dunning, D.D., Boston, Mass.

"The various contributed articles appear to have been written by men who are thoroughly familiar with recent investigation, and who, at the same time, have a devout evangelistic spirit. The maps especially are excellent."

Rev. J. P. Sankey.

'I have examined with care and pleasure the 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' edition of the Bible, and am free to say it is complete, scholarly, and, to my mind, the most satisfactory of all the Teachers' Bibles."

Professor James Strong, S.T.D., LL.D., late of Drew Theological Seminary.

"Of all the Teachers' Bibles now current, those of the 'INTERNATIONAL' SERIES. . . . seem to be the most elegant and serviceable. The PRINT is remarkably CLEAR and DISTINCT, and the COLLATERAL HELPS for STUDY are ADMIRABLE."

Bishop W. X. Ninde, Detroit.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE is admirably adapted to the general reader as well as to the class for whom it is especially designed Its cheapness is such that every one can now afford a Bible durable and beautiful in form; in fact, in the best form of the typographical art, and containing an invaluable literary apparatus in the Manual appended."

Bishop John H. Vincent.

"I am very much pleased with the copy of the Bible. It is, for so small a PAGE, and so THIN a book, printed in remarkably CLEAR and SATISFACTORY TYPE. The MAPS and HELPS are admirable."

Rev. H. L. Hastings, Boston, Mass.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' Series of Bibles is superior to all others as regards the type, which is very plain and bold, giving an unusually CLEAR and READABLE PAGE. . . . The references are arranged to economize space, and at the same time are sufficiently full. Consequently the 'INTERNATIONAL' Bibles, while more readable, are yet smaller and more convenient to handle and carry than any other."

Rev. J. Zimmerman, D.D., in "The Young Lutheran."

"Of the many different Teachers' Bibles, the most recent one surpasses all others. I cannot commend it too highly to all those seeking a Bible that has a CLEAR, PLAIN, and BOLD TYPE. I regret that it was not in the field earlier for no Teachers' Bible of the same size has SO LARGE and SO CLEAR TYPE as the 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE. This is a most important feature to be considered in buying a Bible for a lifetime."

The New York "Independent."

"The Type is clear and black. There is absolutely no waste room on the page, and every detail of manufacture seems to be well carried out. The Helps in the teachers' Bibles are new, practical and scholarly. The map series is large as well as new."

Rev. J. M. Frost, D.D., in "The Teacher."

"The 'Teachers' Edition' of the 'INTERNATIONAL,' as the name indicates, is for a specific class and is especially adapted to their use. Its new Helps, new maps, clear print, abundant references and marginal readings, convenient size, fine and durable binding, will give it great favor with teachers and others who wish a beautiful and helpful edition of the Word of God."

"The Chautauquan"

"Among the different desirable editions of the Bible NONE HOLDS A HIGHER PLACE in ALL PARTICULARS than the 'INTERNATIONAL' BIBLE. With its fine pliable covers, its light India paper, its large, clear type, it meets all the requirements of a book for convenient use."

"Christian Advocate," Nashville.

"The 'INTERNATIONAL' TEACHERS' BIBLE is destined to be a sharp competitor for the public favor. We shall be surprised, in fact, if it does not take the lead. Considered simply as a specimen of bookmaking, it has all the points in its favor which are likely to meet the taste of purchasers. No expense has been spared by the publishers to make a perfect book . . . THE BIBLE READER'S MANUAL, which is appended, is exceedingly full. . . . The General Editor is the Rev. C. H. H. Wright, D.D., Bampton Lecturer for 1878 in the University of Oxford, a man in every way fit for the task."

"The Standard"

"Besides a concordance and biblical gazetteer, it contains an unusually full supply of maps, prepared by Major Conder, perhaps the most distinguished Palestinian explorer now living. . . . We notice with pleasure the remarkable clearness of the type. . . . Readers will notice that this edition in hand bears the name of the 'Teachers' Bible.' It represents not only the most skilled mechanical execution in the line of bookmaking, but also, in its Helps, the best scholarship on both sides of the sea."

"Cumberland Presbyterian"

"Before recommending this Bible to our Church and friends we submitted it to a committee composed of able and scholarly men. After a careful, painstaking and unprejudiced examination the Bible was recommended in the strongest words of praise."

These Bibles are printed and bound in Our Own Establishment where every detail of manufacture can be carefully watched.

"International" India Paper Bibles

WHAT IS INDIA BIBLE PAPER? "A thin, soft, absorbent paper, usually of a pale buff tint, made in China and Japan, and imitated in Europe and the United States, where it is used for the first or finest impressions of engravings, called India Proofs."—Century Dictionary,

"INTERNATIONAL" India Paper is much more. It is not an imitation but an original paper made for "International" Bibles. It has superior strength and is of such marvelous opacity that the print on one side of the page cannot be seen through on the other side.

"INTERNATIONAL" India Bible paper instead of being of a light buff color, is made in the bright color so much desired by Bible readers.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS. 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy; the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy; and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren.
13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations.

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

18 No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.
19 ¶ And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem to ask him, Who art thou?

I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.
33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.
34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

against Rabbah, and have taken the city of waters.

28 Now therefore gather the rest of the people together, and encamp against the city, and take it: lest I take the city, and it be called after my name.

29 And David gathered all the people together, and went to Rabbah, and fought against it, and took it.

30 And he took their king's crown from off his head, the weight whereof was a talent of gold with the precious stones: and it was set on David's head. And he brought forth the spoil of the city in great abundance.

31 And he brought forth the people that were therein, and put them under saws, and under harrows of iron, and under axes of iron, and made them pass through the brick-kiln: and thus did he unto all the cities of the children of Ammon. So David and all the people returned unto Jerusalem.

CHAPTER 13.

1 Amnon loves Tamar: 6 he defiles her. 28 Amnon is slain. 37 Absalom flees to Talmai.

1 And it came to pass after this, that Absalom the son of David had a fair sister, whose name was Tamar; and Amnon the son of David loved her.

2 And Amnon was so vexed, that he fell sick for his sister Tamar; for she was a virgin: and Amnon thought it hard for him to do any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend, whose name was Jonadab, the son of Shimeah, David's brother: and Jonadab was a very subtil man.

4 And he said unto him, Why art thou, being the king's son, lean from day to day? wilt thou not tell me? And Amnon said unto him, I love Tamar, my brother Absalom's sister.

5 And Jonadab said unto him, Lay thee down on thy bed, and make thyself sick: and when thy father cometh to see thee, say unto him, I pray thee, let my sister Tamar come and give me meat, and dress the meat in my sight, that I may see it, and eat it at her hand.

6 So Amnon lay down, and made himself sick: and when the king was come to see him, Amnon said unto the king, I pray thee, let Tamar my sister come and make me a couple of cakes in my sight, that I may eat at her hand.

7 Then David sent home to Tamar, saying, Go now to thy brother Amnon's house, and dress him meat.

8 So Tamar went to her brother Amnon's house; and he was laid down. And she took flour, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And she took a pan, and poured them out before him: but he refused to eat. And Amnon said, Have out all men from me. And they went out every man from him.

10 And Amnon said unto Tamar, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother.

11 And when she had brought them unto him to eat, he took hold of her, and said unto her, Come lie with me, my sister.

12 And she answered him, Nay, my brother, do not force me; for no such thing ought to be done in Israel: do not thou this folly.

The saints' resurrection. 1 CORINTHIANS. 16. The manner of it.

25 For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.
26 The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.
27 For he hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted which did put all things under him.
28 And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.
29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?
30 And why stand we in jeopardy every hour?
31 I protest by your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, I die daily.
32 If after the manner of men I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? let us eat and drink; for to-morrow we die.
33 Be not deceived: evil communications corrupt good manners.
34 Awake to righteousness, and sin not; for some have not the knowledge of God: I speak this to your shame.
35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?
36 Thou fool, that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die.
37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:
38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.
39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.
40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.
41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.
42 So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:
43 It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:
44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.
45 And so it is written, The first man Adam was made a living soul; the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.
46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.
47 The first man is of the earth, earthy: the second man is the Lord from heaven.
48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.
49 And as we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.
50 Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.
51 Behold, I show you a mystery; We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed,
52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.
53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality.
54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.
55 O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?
56 The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.
57 But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.
58 Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER 16.

1 How to proceed for the relief of the brethren.
13 Admonitions, 19 and salutations

NOW concerning the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.
2 Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.
3 And when I come, whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your liberality unto Jerusalem.
4 And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.
5 Now I will come unto you, when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.
6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.
7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, if the Lord permit.
8 But I will tarry at Ephesus until Pentecost.
9 For a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and there are many adversaries.
10 Now if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.
11 Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.
12 As touching our brother Apollos, I greatly desire him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.
13 Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong.

Hypocrisy to S. LUKE, 12. be avoided.

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;
51 From the blood of Abel, unto the blood of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.
52 Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye hindered.
53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things;
54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER 12.

1 To avoid hypocrisy. 13 To beware of covetousness. 41 The faithful and wise steward. 49 Of divisions on account of the Gospel.

IN the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisy.
2 For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.
3 Therefore whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.
4 And I say unto you, my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.
5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, shall confess me before men, him shall the Son of man also confess before the angels of God:
9 But he that denieth me before men shall be denied before the angels of God.
10 And whosoever shall speak a word against the Son of man, it shall be forgiven him: but unto him that blasphemeth against the Holy Ghost it shall not be forgiven.
11 And when they bring you unto the synagogues, and unto magistrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye shall answer, or what ye shall say:
12 For the Holy Ghost shall teach you in the same hour what ye ought to say.
13 ¶ And one of the company said unto him, Master, speak to my brother, that he divide the inheritance with me.
14 And he said unto him, Man, who made me a judge or a divider over you?
15 And he said unto them, Take heed, and beware of covetousness: for a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth.
16 And he spake a parable unto them, saying, The ground of a certain rich man brought forth plentifully:
17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.
19 And I will say to my soul, Soul, thou hast much goods laid up for many years; take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry.
20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night thy soul shall be required of thee: then whose shall those things be which thou hast the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

13 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and unto Aär'on, and gave them a charge unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring the children of Iṣ'ra-el out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

3 But he answered and said unto them, Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, Honour thy father and mother: and, He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye hypocrites, well did Ê-ṣā'ias prophesy of you, saying,

8 This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phăr'ĭ-sees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 Then answered Pē'tēr and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Jē'ṣus said, Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ Then Jē'ṣus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tȳre and Sī'dŏn.

22 And, behold, a woman of Cā'năan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou son of Dā'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Iṣ'ra-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to dogs.

27 And she said, Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Jē'ṣus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 ¶ And Jē'ṣus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the sea of Găl'ĭ-lee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jē'ṣus' feet; and he healed them:

31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Iṣ'ra-el.

18 She is a tree of life to them that lay hold upon her; and happy is every one that retaineth her.

23 Then shalt thou walk in thy way safely, and thy foot shall not stumble.
24 When thou liest down, thou shalt not be afraid; yea, thou shalt lie down, and thy sleep shall be sweet.
25 Be not afraid of sudden fear, neither of the desolation of the wicked, when it cometh.
26 For the LORD shall be thy confidence, and shall keep thy foot from being taken.

1 Solomon, to persuade obedience, 3 shows what instruction he had of his parents.

HEAR, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding.
2 For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law.
3 For I was my father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4 He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.

9 She shall give to thine head an ornament of grace: a crown of glory shall she deliver to thee.
10 Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many.
11 I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in right paths.

19 And the LORD said, Who shall entice Ahab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall at Ramoth-gilead? And one spake saying after this manner, and another saying after that manner.
20 Then there came out a [i]spirit, and stood before the LORD, and said, I will entice him. And the LORD said unto him, Wherewith?

GENESIS.

CHAPTER I.

1 The creation of heaven and earth, 3 of the light, 6 of the firmament, 9 of the earth separated from the waters, 11 and made fruitful, 14 of the sun, moon, and stars, 20 of fish and fowl, 24 of beasts and cattle, 26 of man in the image of God. 29 Also the appointment of food.

IN the [a] beginning [b] God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. [c] And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3 [d] And God said, [e] Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided [2] the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light [f] Day, and the darkness he called Night. [3] And the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 ¶ And God said, [g] Let there be a [4] firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament [h] and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were [i] above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 ¶ And God said, [k] Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together

15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God [p] made two great lights; the greater light [7] to rule the day, and [q] the lesser light to rule the night: he made [r] the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

18 And to [s] rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

20 And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the [8] moving creature that hath [9] life, and [10] fowl that may fly above the earth in the [11] open firmament of heaven.

21 And [t] God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

22 And God blessed them, saying, [u] Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let fowl multiply in the earth.

THE PRISM OF SENNACHERIB

This record of Sennacherib's conquests is now in the British Museum. The face nearest the spectator gives the latter part of the account of Sennacherib's expedition against Hezekiah, which ends just before the division line about half-way down the column. Sennacherib does not mention Tirhakah as Hezekiah's ally, nor is there, in his account, any word of disaster.

1 The genealogy of Jesus Christ: 18 Mary's miraculous conception; Jesus is born: 21, 23 his names.

THE book of the *a*generation of Jē'sus Christ, *b*the son of Dā'vid, the *c*son of Ā'bra-hām.

2 Ā'bra-hām begat I'saac; and I'saac begat Jā'cob; and Jā'cob begat Jū'das and his brethren;

3 And Jū'das begat Phā'rēs and Zā'rā of Thā'mar; and *d*Phā'rēs begat Ĕs'rom; and Ĕs'rom begat Ā'rām;

4 And Ā'rām begat Ā-mĭn'a-dāb; and Ā-mĭn'a-dāb begat *e*Nā'as-son; and Nā'as-son begat Săl'mŏn;

5 And Săl'mŏn begat Bŏ'ŏz *f*of Rā'chāb; and Bŏ'ŏz begat Ō'bed of Ruth; and Ō'bed begat Jĕs'se;

6 And *g*Jĕs'se begat Dā'vid the king; and Dā'vid *h*the king begat Sŏl'o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-rī'as;

7 And *i*Sŏl'o-mon begat Rŏ-bō'am; and Rŏ-bō'am begat Ā-bī'a; and Ā-bī'a begat Ā'sa;

8 And Ā'sa begat Jŏs'a-phāt; and Jŏs'a-phāt begat Jō'ram; and Jō'ram begat Ō-zī'as;

9 And Ō-zī'as begat Jō'a-thām; and Jō'a-thām begat Ā'chāz; and Ā'chāz begat Ĕz-e-kī'as;

10 And *j*Ĕz-e-kī'as begat Mā-nās'sēs; and Mā-nās'sēs begat Ā'mŏn; and Ā'mŏn begat Jō-sī'as;

11 And Jō-sī'as begat Jĕch-o-nī'as and his brethren, about the time they were carried *k*away to Băb'y-lon:

12 And after they were brought to Băb'y-lon, Jĕch-o-nī'as begat Sā-lā'thi-el; and Sā-lā'thi-el begat *l*Zŏ-rŏb'a-bĕl;

13 And Zŏ-rŏb'a-bĕl begat Ā-bī'ud; and Ā-bī'ud begat Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm; and Ĕ-lī'a-kĭm begat Ā'zōr;

14 And Ā'zōr begat Să'dŏc; and Să'dŏc begat Ā'chim; and Ā'chim begat Ĕ-lī'ud;

15 And Ĕ-lī'ud begat Ĕ-le-ā'zar; and Ĕ-le-ā'zar begat Mät'than; and Mät'than begat Jā'cob;

16 And Jā'cob begat Jō'seph the husband of Mā'rў, of whom was born Jē'sus, *m*who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from Ā'bra-hām to Dā'vid are fourteen generations; and from Dā'vid until the carrying away into Băb'y lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Băb'y-lon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶Now the *n*birth of Jē'sus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mā'rў was espoused to Jō'seph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

19 Then Jō'seph her husband, being a just man, *o*and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'seph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rў thy wife: for *p*that which is conceived in her is of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name JĒ'SUS: for he *q*shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 Behold, *r*a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Ĕm-măn'u-el, which being interpreted is, *s*God with us.

24 Then Jō'seph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

25 And knew her not till she had brought forth her firstborn son: and he called his name JĒ'SUS.

CHAPTER 2.

1 Wise men enquire after Christ. 13 Joseph fleeth into Egypt. 16 Herod slayeth the children: 19 Christ brought out of Egypt.

NOW when *a*Jē'sus was born in Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a in the days of Hĕr'od the king, behold, there came wise men *b*from the east to Jē-ru'sā-lĕm,

2 Saying, *c*Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his *d*star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Hĕr'od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jē-ru'sā-lĕm with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the *e*chief priests and *f*scribes of the people together, *g*he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bĕth'le-hĕm of Jū-dæ'a: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 And *h*thou Bĕth'le-hĕm, in the land of Jū'dā, art not the least among the princes of Jū'dā: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that *i*shall rule my people Is'ra-el.

7 Then Hĕr'od, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Bĕth'le-hĕm, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mā'rў his mother, and fell down, and *j*worshipped him: and when they

19 Then Jō'seph her husband, being a just man, *o*and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jō'seph, thou son of Dā'vid, fear not to take unto thee Mā'rў thy wife: for *p*that which is [2]conceived in her is of the Hō'lў Ghōst.

21 And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name [3]JĒ'SUS: for he *q*shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 Behold, *r*a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and [4]they shall call his name Ĕm-măn'u-el, which being interpreted is, [s]God with us.

24 Then Jō'seph being raised from sleep did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

Cylinder of Cyrus II., Mentioning the Capture of Babylon by that King

After mentioning that the gods were angry and discontented, apparently at Nabonidus' neglect of their temples, the text states that Merodach called Cyrus, king of Ansan, to the dominion of all the world, commanded that he should go to Babylon, and walked, like a friend and companion, by his side. His vast army, "which, like the waters of a river, could not be numbered," he caused to enter Babylon without fighting and battle. Nabonidus was captured, and the whole of Babylon and Sumer, princes and priests, fell down before him and kissed his feet; they rejoiced in his sovereignty. After giving his genealogy, in which he calls himself son of Cambyses, grandson of Cyrus, great-grandson of Teispes, the eternal seed of dominion of Bel and Nebo, the inscription refers to the restoration of the temples, the tribute paid by the kings of Amurri, and the restoration of the gods to their shrines, and ends with a prayer to Bel and Nebo for himself and his son Cambyses. (A baked clay cylinder, now in the British Museum.)

into the hand of their enemies, who vexed them: and in the time of their trouble, when they cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and according to thy manifold mercies thou gavest them saviours, who saved them out of the hand of their enemies.

28 But after they had rest, [g]they did evil again before thee: therefore leftest thou them in the hand of their enemies, so that they had the dominion over them: yet when they returned, and cried unto thee, thou heardest them from heaven; and many times didst thou deliver them according to thy mercies;

29 And [g]testifiedst against them, that thou mightest bring them again unto thy law: yet they dealt proudly, and hearkened not unto thy commandments, but sinned against thy judgments, ([h]which if a man do, he shall live in them;) and [10]withdrew the shoulder, and hardened their neck, and would not hear.

30 Yet many years didst thou [11]forbear them, and [g]testifiedst against them by thy spirit [12]in thy prophets: yet would they not give ear: therefore gavest thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

31 Nevertheless for thy great mercies' sake [i]thou didst not utterly consume them, nor forsake them; for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

32 Now therefore, our God, the great, the mighty, and the terrible God, who keepest covenant and mercy, let not all the [13]trouble seem little before thee, [14]that hath come upon us, on our kings, on our princes, and on our priests, and on our prophets, and on our fathers, and on all thy people, since [k]the time of the kings of Ăs-sўr'-ĭ-ȧ unto this day.

33 Howbeit [l]thou art just in all that is brought upon us; for thou hast done right, but we have done wickedly:

34 Neither have our kings, our princes, our priests, nor our fathers, kept thy law, nor hearkened unto thy commandments and thy testimonies, wherewith thou didst testify against them.

35 For they have not served thee in their kingdom, and in thy great goodness that thou gavest them, and in the large and fat land which thou gavest before them, neither turned they from their wicked works.

36 Behold, [m]we are servants this day, and for the land that thou gavest unto our fathers to eat the fruit thereof and the good thereof, behold, we are servants in it:

Teaching of John Baptist ST. MATTHEW, 4. Temptation of Christ

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Ê-ṣā′ĭas, saying, The voice [d] of one crying in the wilderness, [e] Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And [f] the same Jŏhn [g] had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was [h] locusts and wild [i] honey.

6 And [j] were baptized of him in Jôr′-dan, confessing their sins.

7 But when he saw many of the Phăr′-ĭ-sees and Săd′du-çees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from [k] the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore fruits [1] meet for repentance:

9 And think not to say within yourselves, [l] We have Ā′brā-hăm to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Ā′brā-hăm.

10 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: [m] therefore every tree which bringeth not forth

THE MOST USEFUL, MOST ATTRACTIVE AND MOST CONVENIENT BIBLE PUBLISHED

THIS BIBLE has been prepared primarily for the home and to meet the demand for a Bible with large, clear type that can easily be read by old folks, and with beautiful and interesting illustrations to attract the young folks, and yet of such size that it can be conveniently handled. It has all the good features that made the old-fashioned Family Bibles so popular, WITHOUT the objectionable features, its great weight and bulk.

The Bible contains many new features that will be valued in a devotional Bible. Its place is on the centre table of every home where every member of the family can draw from and be drawn to its contents.

From the standpoint of manufacture every detail has been given equal attention. It is carefully printed on extra quality of paper, the illustrations are printed on high-finish coated paper, the colored plates are works of art. Especial care has been given to the selection of suitable paper for the marriage certificate and family record, and in securing durable and attractive bindings.

The "International"

Christian Worker's Bible

COPYRIGHTED 1905

Indexed and marked in both Old and New Testaments according to the best system of Bible marking on the

Theme of Salvation

EXPLANATION OF MARKINGS

THE INDEX, OR KEY directs the reader to the first verse in the Bible on a subject, and, at the close of the first verse on that subject, there is a reference to the next verse on the same subject; so, that (though it may be fifty or one hundred pages away), the reader turns forward rapidly verse to verse, in regular order, until he reads everything in the whole Bible on that subject. Then he turns back, to the index or key, at the beginning, and takes up the next subject in the general plan of Salvation, with the first verse in the Bible on that subject, and reads straight through as before. And, so, one continues until the seventeen subjects, which complete the whole theme of Salvation, shall have been read through. This arrangement will enable anyone to conduct a Bible Reading on any of the following at a moment's notice.

H 6 And it [r]repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it [s]grieved him at his heart.

7 And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; [3]both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. H. 19. 12, 13.

8 But Nō'ah [t]found grace in the eyes of the LORD.

9 ¶ These are the generations of Nō'ah: Nō'ah was a just man and [4]perfect in his generations, and Nō'ah walked with God.

10 And Nō'ah begat three sons, Shĕm, Hăm, and Jā'pheth.

11 The earth also was corrupt before God, and the earth was filled with violence.

C 12 And God looked [5]upon the earth, and, behold, it was corrupt; for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. C. Exod. 20. 5.

F 13 And God said unto Nō'ah, The [u]end of all flesh is come before me; for the earth is filled with violence through them; and, behold, I will destroy them [6]with the earth.

14 Make thee an ark of gopher wood; [v]rooms shalt thou make in the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. F. 6. 20.

15 And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of: The length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits.

16 A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it.

17 And, [w]behold, I, even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven; and every thing that is in the earth [x]shall die.

18 But with thee will I establish my covenant; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

19 And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee; they shall be male and female.

F 20 Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, two of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. F. 6. 22.

21 And take thou unto thee of all [y]food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them.

22 [z]Thus did Nō'ah; [a]according to all that God commanded him, so did he. F. 12. 1–4

CHAPTER 7.

1 Noah, with his family, and the living creatures, enter into the ark. 17 The beginning, increase, and continuance of the flood. 21 All flesh destroyed.

O AND the LORD said unto Nō'ah, Come [b]thou and all thy house into the ark; for thee have I seen righteous [c]before me in this generation. O. 15. 6.

2 Of every [d]clean beast thou shalt take to thee by [1]sevens, the male and his female: and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female.

3 Of fowls also of the air by sevens, the male and the female; to keep seed alive upon the face of all the earth.

4 For yet seven days, and [e]I will cause it to rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights; and every living substance that I have made will I [2]destroy from off the face of the earth.

5 And Nō'ah did according unto all [f]that the LORD commanded him.

6 And Nō'ah was six hundred years old when the flood of waters was upon the earth.

7 And [3]Nō'ah went in, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him, into the ark, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of clean beasts, and of beasts that are not clean, and of fowls, and of every thing that creepeth upon the earth,

9 There went in two and two unto Nō'ah into the ark, the male and the female, as God had commanded Nō'ah.

10 And it came to pass [3]after seven days, that the waters of the flood were upon the earth.

11 In the six hundredth year of Nō'ah's life, in the second month, the seventeenth day of the month, the same day were all the [g]fountains of the great deep broken up, and [4]the [h]windows of heaven were opened.

Red Letter Bible

ALL THE TYPES AND PROPHECIES
In the Old Testament, pointing to Christ

ALL THE REFERENCES
In the centre column of the Old Testament, referring to the words uttered by Christ

ALL THE PASSAGES QUOTED
By Christ from the Old Testament

AND ALL THE WORDS OF CHRIST
In the New Testament

ARE PRINTED IN RED

The Red Letter Bible is the Bible that emphasizes Christ. The Old Testament, in types and prophecies, prefigured and foretold His coming. Christ, himself, endorsed and set His seal upon the Old Testament by continually referring to it and quoting from it. And He commanded us to "Search the Scriptures," for He said, "they testify of me." But how hard it is for the average reader to take the Bible and read it and know what refers to Christ. To such a reader the Red Letter Bible is a great help and benefit.

In the Red Letter Bible eminent scholars have carefully gone through and marked all those passages that point to Christ and all those passages that Jesus Himself quoted. And in this volume all those passages and all the words of Jesus are printed in red ink. That is the story of the Red Letter Bible, which has proved so wonderfully popular.

This will enable any one to give a Bible reading, at a moments notice, on any subject marked in the Testament.

The capital letters used in this index, and on the margin of verses, and in front of the references, are to indicate the subjects; thus F stands for Faith, R for Repentance, etc., (see opposite page). 30 ¶ And when they had sung an hymn, they went out into the mount of Ŏl'ĭves.
31 Then saith Jē'şus unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.
32 But after I am risen again, I will go before you into Găl'ĭ-lee.
33 Pē'tĕr answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.
34 Jē'şus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.
35 Pē'tĕr said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.
36 ¶ Then cometh Jē'şus with them unto a place called Gĕth-sĕm'a-nē, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.
37 And he took with him Pē'tĕr and the two sons of Zĕb'e-dee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

PSALM 1.

Happiness of the godly, misery of the wicked.

BLESSED is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful.

2 But his delight is in the law of the LORD; and in his law doth he meditate day and night.

3 And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

4 The ungodly are not so: but are like the chaff which the wind driveth away.

5 Therefore the ungodly shall not

4 He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

5 Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet have I set my king upon my holy hill of Zī'ŏn.

7 I will declare the decree: the LORD hath said unto me, Thou art my Son; this day have I begotten thee.

8 Ask of me, and I shall give thee the heathen for thine inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt break them with a rod of iron; thou shalt dash them in pieces like a potter's vessel.

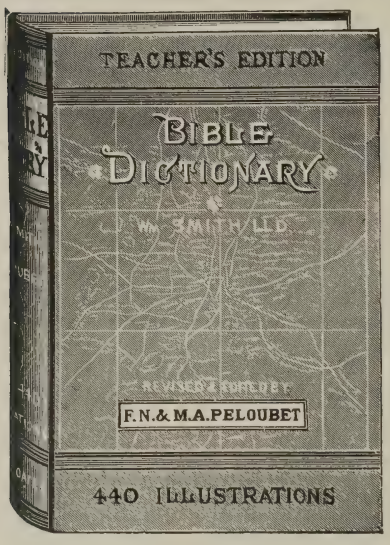
Smith's Bible Dictionary

TEACHER'S EDITION

Especially Edited and Brought Down to Date by the Noted Bible Commentarians and Sunday-School Lesson Note Makers

REVS. F. N. and M. A. PELOUBET

Authors of the "Select Notes on the International Lessons"



Every one acknowledges the superior value of Dr. William Smith's Bible Dictionary, as containing the fruit of the ripest Biblical scholarship. It is practically the foundation, or father, of all other Bible Dictionaries. This late edition, brought down to the 20th Century, and thoroughly revised to incorporate the most recent research and discoveries in Bible Lands, by the distinguished Doctors Peloubet, the book becomes at once not only the most exhaustive, but the newest and best of all Bible Dictionaries.

Sunday-School Edition—It has been adapted in its present form to the convenience of Sunday-School Teachers and Scholars. By the addition of an account of the latest researches in Bible Lands and references to the Revised Version of the New Testament, with innumerable notes on the significance of Bible names, meaning of words, a complete revision of the geography of Palestine, the correct locating of sacred places, together with the dates at which famous persons lived and the dates and places where important events took place, the book becomes a veritable treasury to Sunday-School workers.

Encyclopedia of Bible Knowledge—A new chronological harmony of the Gospels and History of the Apostles, together with Four Hundred and Forty Handsome Illustrations and Eight Colored Maps made from the latest geographical surveys, this Bible Dictionary might be called with equal propriety, a complete Encyclopedia, Biographical Dictionary and Gazetteer, which will prove itself of untold value to every one interested in the study of the Sacred Scripture.

IT CONTAINS OVER 800 PAGES, WITH EIGHT COLORED MAPS AND 440 ILLUSTRATIONS

Bound in Fine Cloth, Handsomely Stamped In Gilt and Ink. Price, $2.50

The Renowned Ellis Books

Stories dealing with pioneer life will always have an attraction for the young; and although the conditions are idealized and the dangers forgotten in the glamour and picturesqueness which are thrown around them, yet it is better when they are presented in the form which Mr. Ellis gives to them than in an ultra-sensational and often harmful shape.

How many heart-stirring events in the story of Britain's history are brought pleasantly before us in the pages of this book! The earliest relic represented, that of Sir Francis Drake, recalls the Spanish Main. Here is the sword of that mighty man of war, Cromwell, who ruled England as he ruled his Ironsides—the sword of Marlborough reminiscent of Blenheim and Ramillies—the sash of the ill-fated Sir John Moore, whose burial was described in Campbell's never to be forgotten poem, the pistol of Abercrombie, whose daring soul passed away in Egypt amidst the cheers of victory—the sword, telescope and hat of Wellington and the cloak worn at Waterloo by the great Napoleon—the costly Oriental swords and jewelled daggers of the time of Tippoo Sahib—the crowns of the Great Mogul, of Theodore of Abyssinia—the swords of Gen. Wolfe, Capt. Cook, and Viscount Duncan, and those surrendered by the Hindoo kings at Delhi—the helmet and standard of Tippoo Sahib, etc., etc.

DURER'S "Little Passion." Passio Christi. A complete set of the Thirty-seven Woodcuts, by Albert Dürer. Reproduced in facsimile. Edited by W. C. Prime. One volume, royal 4to (13 x 10½) Printed on heavy glazed paper. Reduced from $10.00 to $5.00.

The "Little Passion" of Albert Dürer, consisting of thirty-seven woodcuts, has long been regarded as one of the most remarkable collections of illustrations known to the world. Complete sets of the entire series are excessively rare.

WELLINGTON, Words on, by Sir William Fraser. With 6 photogravure portraits and 30 other illustrations from contemporary sources. Special Large Paper Edition, limited to 25 copies, each numbered. Demy 4to (11⅝ x 9), crimson cloth extra, gilt top. London, John C. Nimmo, 1900. Reduced from $16.80 to $5.50.

An interesting book for the general reader and an especially desirable book for the extra-illustrator. During Wellington's time, Napoleon's armies marched and fought all over Europe, the War of 1812 between England and the United States occurred, and many other stirring incidents of history happened; all these are referred to in this book, and many hundreds of portraits, views, facsimiles, etc., can be appropriately inserted. An extra title-page is given with the book in case anyone should wish to extend it to two volumes.

HAZLITT. Four Generations of a Literary Family: The Hazlitts in England, Ireland and America—Their Friends and Their Fortunes. 1725-1896, by W. Carew Hazlitt. With Portraits reproduced from miniatures by John Hazlitt. Two large and handsomely printed octavo vols. of 350 pages each (9 x 6), cloth, uncut. London, 1897. Reduced from $9.60 to $3.50.

It is not at all surprising that the work has been rigidly suppressed in England, because it has so many truthful allusions derogatory to deceased and living celebrities, and contains numerous bits of scabreuses histoires, besides being terribly outspoken, in many instances, about Statesmen, Diplomats, Writers, Artists, Players, Savants, and, indeed, all manner of people of public prominence. Both author and publisher were threatened with endless suits for libel for wanton defamation of the characters mentioned in the work.

SCARABS: The History, Manufacture, and Religious Symbolism of the Scarabæus in Ancient Egypt, Phœnicia, Sardinia, Etruria, etc.; also Remarks on the Learning, Philosophy, Arts, Ethics, Psychology, Ideas as to the Immortality of the Soul, etc., of the Ancient Egyptians, Phœnicians, etc., by Isaac Myer, LL.B. Crown 8vo (7½ x 5¼), cloth (177 pages.) Reduced from $2.00 net to $1.00 net.

LADY of the Camellias (The), by Alexander Dumas, fils. A new translation with a new preface by the author, with 10 full-page engravings on steel and 41 photogravures in the text, by Albert Lynch. 1 vol., large 8vo (9¾ x 7), cloth extra, gilt top. Reduced from $5.00 to $1.75.

BECK (G. W.). Gloves: Their Annals and Associations: a Chapter of Trade and Social History. Illustrated. Crown 8vo (7¾ x 5½), cloth extra. London, 1883. Reduced from $3.00 to 50 cents.

"A most interesting and readable book, full of anecdotes, illustrations and glovelore from first to last."

DE WITT (John), Grand Pensionary of Holland; or, Twenty Years of a Parliamentary Republic, by Antonin Lefevre Pontalis. Handsomely bound in large type. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, Longmans, 1885. Reduced from $14.40 to $1.75.

"This book contains the most complete account yet given to the world of the history of Holland under the rule of John De Witt."—ST. JAMES'S GAZETTE.

LIFE and Times of General Sir Edward Cecil, Viscount Wimbledon, Colonel of an English Regiment in the Dutch Service, 1605-1631, and one of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, 1628-1638, by Charles Dalton. Portrait. 2 vols., 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, Sampson Low, 1885. Reduced from $12.00 to $1.25.

A LIST OF BOOKS PUBLISHED BY D. B. UPDIKE
THE MERRYMOUNT PRESS, BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

THE HUMANISTS' LIBRARY. UNDER THE EDITORSHIP OF LEWIS EINSTEIN. A SERIES OF BOOKS CHARACTERISTIC OF SOME ASPECT OF THE CULTURE OF THE RENAISSANCE. Printed under Mr. Updike's supervision from the new "Montallegro" type (designed for the Merrymount Press by Mr. Herbert P. Horne), on a hand-made paper specially manufactured for the series. The edition printed of each volume is strictly limited to 300 copies for England and America.

The purpose of The Humanists' Library is to print in a form as near akin as possible to the traditions of the printers' art in its earliest days a brief series of books each one of which shall be characteristic of some aspect of the culture which flourished in Western Europe during the period of the Renaissance. Such works will find place in this Library as fulfil the requirements of being representative, in our own time as in the past. In no case will an unworthy book be printed because of its rarity; yet this element will not be left altogether out of account. It is not intended, however, that the Series be confined to reprints. There will be added as well original contributions of value on subjects connected with the life, the art, and the literature of the Renaissance in Western Europe. Especially such books as appeal alike to the lover of literature and of art will be included. While the Series, as a whole, will be under the supervision of the general Editor, each book will be assigned to a scholar who will supply an introduction and will be responsible for the accuracy of the text.

The volumes at present arranged for are as follows:

MEMORIALS OF MARY WILDER WHITE—A Century Ago in New England. By ELIZABETH AMELIA DWIGHT. Edited by MARY WILDER TILESTON. Illustrated with 10 photogravures. 8vo. 400 pages. Cloth, $2.50

It is one of the rapidly accumulating documents on which, some day, will be based an entirely new estimate of Puritanism in the eighteenth century in New England. Mary Wilder was one of those beautiful, fragile, intellectual women who upwards of a hundred years ago united the piety of the Pilgrims with the beginnings of that broader culture which blossomed in the literature of New England, of which Emerson was a prominent example.—Christian Register.

An able and temperate discussion of the moral and economic aspects of the liquor problem, and a terrible arraignment of the saloon. A vast array of facts is presented to show the demoralizing effect of the traffic, and careful consideration is given to practical and practicable methods of reform. The temper of the book is excellent, and it is to be commended to all students of social conditions and to all workers for social betterment.—The Living Church.

HOLIDAY POEMS, POEMS OF THE SEASONS, SPANISH WAR POEMS, POEM OF GREETING TO IAN MACLAREN ON THE OCCASION OF HIS VISIT TO COLORADO. . . . . .

12mo. 118 Pages. 75 Cents

"Mr. Ward's gift is in appreciation and expression of phases of the world out of doors. The title poem which touches the heart with simple pathos, and Spring's Prophet, which immediately follows, touch the high-water mark of accomplishment in the book."—The Congregationalist.

"The verses are for the most part simple and sweet, in pleasing contrast to the morbid strain which appears in so much of our periodic poetry and the few selections which touch upon the Spanish War have a pleasing martial ring."—Young People's Weekly.

"The verse is fragrant with the scent of the out-door world, and much of it is exquisite in its tenderness. 'A Summer Love,' lines to a pansy, is especially delicate."—THE EDITOR.

The History of Civilization

By Julian Laughlin

A Member of the St. Louis Bar

Gives the origin of all our principal ideas, both good and bad. It finds civilization to be the result of useful inventions and discoveries, such as fire, writing, steam, wheel, loom, plow, sail, bronze, iron, etc. These inventions were all traced to a white people who lived in Egypt before the brown skin Hyksos invasion, 2100 B.C.

The Kemian Osiris (Jupiter) discovered the use of fire, which raised man from the primitive to the savage state. Kem domesticated the goat and was represented as a goat-man (Greek, Pan.) Isis (Juno) invented the sail. Anubis invented bronze. Thoth invented picture-writing, which was afterward improved into the hieroglyphic. The mythological gods were men who learned to control the forces of nature and gave to man the beneficial use of power.

The bad ideas all grew out of abuses of the taxing power.

The book is the result of a vast research along new and original lines. It is illustrated with over 500 pictures, and it is claimed that the history of ideas is so far reaching in its effects as to make this the most important book ever published in America. Price, $5.00.

THE THIRD DAUGHTER

By Mrs. LU WHEAT. 12mo, cloth, $1.50

A story of Chinese home-life which throws a new light upon the mental and moral fibre of the Orient.

Mrs. Wheat went to China with letters from Mr. Wu Ting Fang and from Mr. Ho Yow, which enabled her to study the real Chinaman.

The fact that she was there during the Boxer uprising makes the book valuable as a reference book and of great significance from a moral point of view.

"THE NEWS" says: "It is difficult to consider the book as the work of an American, for in sympathy and spirit it is entirely Chinese."

"THE TIMES" says: "The story is interesting for its reproduction of Chinese life without the idealization to which we have been treated by most writers who have lain their tales in the Orient."

COMPETITION

By W. V. MARSHALL

A book in which it is contended that the throttling of rivalry is responsible for our manifold industrial ills; that the cure is through revival of the free play of competition, and that this object is to be attained by rendering monopolies unprofitable through the application of the graduated property tax.

Holds that penal codes are artificial devices which the trust look upon with derision, and that the taxing process is a natural and therefore triumphant means of restraint.

Whitaker's Reference Catalogue
1906

We take pleasure in announcing the publication of WHITAKER'S REFERENCE CATALOGUE, for 1906, the first issued since 1902. It will consist, as in the last edition, of two strongly bound volumes. The complete or abridged list of nearly every British publisher of note will be found in the new edition, so that almost every book now in print and on sale in England will be included in the Index. In some form or other every book in the Catalogue is indexed. As a rule the subject of the book is given, but in cases where it appears necessary, books are indexed under the three headings of Title, Subject, and Author's name. The index of the last edition extended to 800 pages, containing more than 130,000 references. As the edition is limited we solicit early orders from booksellers and librarians, especially from those who have had the earlier issues and appreciate the bibliographical value of the work.

The price of the set, 2 volumes, bound in half leather, is $5.00.
